COWBOYS

In addition to several great plays in practice, Brooks made a brilliant one-armed grab for a touchdown in Sunday night's exhibition game against the Raiders. A much smaller Watson brings speed and excellent pattern running skills.

TIGHT ENDS

At tight end, the departure of Jay Novacek has been met with the arrival of David LaFleur. Novacek's retirement frees the Cowboys offense to plan for his absence. No longer burdened with doubts about his ability to play, the Cowboys drafted a massive standout tight end from Louisiana State University, David LaFleur. At 6 feet, 7 inches and 280 pounds, this 22-year-old should leave tacklers on their backs.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The absence of Charles Haley will certainly be felt. The defensive line is full of new faces including free agent tackle Hurvin McCormack. The line will struggle to maintain the level of performance it had in previous seasons. Only five of the 13 defensive linemen in camp have more than a year of experience. Some of these new faces will need to become impact players for the Cowboys to defense of Caray. Saying someone is an institu tion does not make it is all right to run racist smack on television Being old does not make it all right to make racist remarks on TV. either.

What kind of message is the Tribune Company sending us? Caray should have received notice then, but he didn't. He's babbling his way through his 53 year of broadcasting right now.

It should not even come dow to Caray making racist commen tary. Besides being ignorant, Caray is simply a terrible play-b play man.

He botches every name that isn't Smith or Jones. He consistently misidentifies players on field. He'll have you believe that the Philadelphia Phillies are gre ball club, because they beat the 's" or "sh" to most every wor says. It all goes back to the slo bering. In short, this makes for terrible television. Reason enough to run the old man from the booth. This is not to say Harry has always been a horrific broadca er. He only has for as long as most of us can remember. Cara was named, "Baseball Announ of the Year," for seven years in row by the Sporting News duri the fifties while with the St. Lou Cardinals. In 1989, he was inducted to the American Sportscasters Hall of Fame. But, those years are long go There comes a time when it is necessary to say goodbye. Unfortunately, Harry says he never do it, and The Tribune Company does not get it either Caray will continue to make watching Cubs baseball games teeth-pulling like experience he dies in the broadcast booth.
