TIAA-CREF. Proven Solutions To Last a Lifetime.

We take a lot of pride in gaining high marks from the major rating services. But the fact is, we're equally proud of the ratings we get in the mail every day from our participants. Because at TIAA-CREF, ensuring the financial futures of the education and research community is something that goes beyond stars and numbers. So from traditional and variable annuities to life insurance and personal savings plans, you'll find we provide the right choices—and the dedication—to help you achieve a lifetime of financial goals. The rating services back us up. So does Bill.

TIAA CREF

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.℠

*Source: Morningstar, Inc., June 1997. Morningstar is an independent service that rates mutual funds and variable annuities. The top 10% of funds in an investment category receive five stars and the next 22.5% receive four stars. Morningstar proprietary ratings reflect historical risk-adjusted performance, and are subject to change every month. They are calculated from the account's three-, five-, and ten-year average annual returns in excess of 90-day Treasury bill returns with appropriate fee adjustments, and a risk factor that reflects performance below 90-day T-bill returns. The overall star ratings referred to above are Morningstar's published ratings, which are weighted averages of its three-, five-, and ten-year ratings for periods ending June 30, 1997. The separate (unpublished) ratings for each of the periods are:

Period	CREF Stock Account	CREF Bond Market Account	CREF Social Choice Account	CREF Global Equities Account	CREF Equity Index Account	CREF Growth Account

Professional wrestling makes up in entertainment what it lacks in reality

columnist

Let's face it — Monday night television can be a real drag. It follows Sunday night, which has television's terrific triumvirate of "The Simpsons," "King of the Hill" and "The X-Files." On Mondays you can watch Frank "Fly the Friendly Skies" Gifford on "Monotony Night Football" or, if there is a woman in your life you are trying impress, try viewing the insipid "Melrose Place."

If you're looking for fresh, exciting programming get ready to ruuuummmbbble! Step into the squared circle, because professional wrestling has never been more popular than now. The two Monday night wrestling programs, "World Championship Wrestling (WCW) Monday Nitro" on TNT and "World Wrestling Federation (WWF) Raw is War" on USA, are the highest rated programs on basic cable with ratings comparable to network television.

Sure, there are some who would say this is a sign of the apocalypse and tractor pulling as an Olympic sport. I beg to differ — pro wrestling offers some of the wittiest programming around.

Each week offers an assortment of thrills, chills and spills. Of course it's fake, but that is where the fun lies. The wrestlers don't take themselves too seriously ... or maybe they do which makes it even better.

Hulk Hogan is no thespian. His acting skills make Pauly Shore look like an Oscar winner, but could Robert DeNiro or Dustin Hoffman perform a suicide plancha or powerslam? I don't think so.

Another great attraction for pro wrestling is every wrestler seems to have a walking babefest for a manager. One such manager is WWF's Sunny. She currently has the distinction of being the most downloaded woman on the Internet. Kimberly, a manager in WC recently did a spread for Playboy proving the women behind the men in pro wrestling shouldn't be hiding behind anything at all, including clothes.

Imagine a beautiful woman cheering you on while you beat the crap out of some guy. Afterwards everyone goes out to get a beer together, because it was all in fun, it fulfills some sort of male fantasy.
