A&M on road to Waco, Lubbuck

Staff writer

There is no rest for the weary as proved by the Texas A&M Volleyball Team. The Aggies have evened their record in Big 12 play to 1-1 with a strong performance over the Oklahoma Sooners this past Saturday.

While the Aggies can take solace in their victory on Saturday they have a big weekend of volleyball ahead of them. They will go by bus to Baylor for a Friday night match against Baylor and then jump on a plane for a trip to the flat treeless plains of West Texas to play Texas Tech University on Saturday night. Both opponents according to assistant coach John Corbelli are capable of giving the Aggies a big test. 'Both are well coached solid teams, they both can beat you if you are not on top of your game."

The Aggies will attempt to take revenge on Baylor for a very costly loss at the end of the 1996 season. The Aggies were poised to receive a first round bye in the NCAA tournament last year when Baylor hung a loss on the team at the start of November, which likely cost them that bye.

"There is no doubt that Baylor has a good squad," Cobelli said. " We went into the Ferrel Center last year tired and unprepared and we right now."

That victory was only the fifth time that Baylor had beaten A&M in the all-time series compared to 37 victories for the Aggies. The Aggies are not the only team that has a tough weekend ahead of them. The Texas Tech Red Raiders will be hosting both The University of Texas and Texas A&M this weekend. The Red Raiders have been relatively unsuccessful against both teams over the years. The Horns have posted 44-7-2 record against the raiders. The Aggies have posted a 32-20 record against the Raiders.

The Aggies do not plan to take the Red Raiders lightly though according to Corbelli. "They have a solid defense and they are very quick so we will have to be prepared."

Texas Tech has had an impressive start to the season. The Raiders have posted a 15-1 record along with a 2-0 start in conference play. The Raiders are led by their setter Lisa Hilgers who recently broke the schools all-time assist record as well as outside hitter Cristine Martin.

According to Corbelli things are on schedule for the Aggies season in terms of team improvement.

"We are learning to play strong in all phases of the game, I think that we are well balanced team

STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

Aggie harriers head to Denton After taking a week off, the Texas A&M Men's Cross Country Team will be looking for their fourth consecutive victory this weekend at the North Texas Invitational in Denton. The men are lead by junior Scott Lengefeld who was named the Big 12 male runner of the week

Invitational two weeks ago. The women are coming off their best finish of the year after taking second at the Rice Invitational. They are led by Millie Ondras, Ann Dwyer and Kari Wyatt who finished nos. 8-\u00e30 at Rice. "This meet will give us a chance to run on the Regional Course," coach Greg Henzie said in a press release. "It will also give us a chance to face some of the regional teams we won't see again until the regional meet. I'm optimistic excelled as a kickoff returner that we will improve this week and averaging 30.9 yards-per-retum and continue to have the success we've had so far this season.'

Jets' Glenn gets new contract

Former Texas A&M standout Aaron Glenn agreed to a fiveyear, $19.3 million contract extension Tuesday with the New York Jets making him the second-highest paid defensive back in the NFL behind Dallas' Deion Sanders.

Glenn, who was the 12th overall pick in the 1994 NFL draft, was in the last year of his original four-year, $4 million deal. Jets Head Coach Bill Parcells said the high salary is a sign of this week after winning the Rice > opposed to rookies coming out the draft. 'We are trying to keep the guys we think are good players, Parcells said. "Hopefully we can be the times, but he prefers to pay proven players like Glenn a in better position this offseason" The five-foot, nine-inch, 185pound Glenn does not have an interception this year and has only five for his career as a result of rarely being tested. He also has this season and 23.3 yards-perreturn for his career.
