

in the News s and Walters love on 20/20

YORK (AP) — Barbara and James Brolin are re-defining lovey-dovey. In a "20/20" interview with Barbara Walters slated for broadcast Friday, Streisand gave a romantic example. A transcript was excerpted in this week's magazine.

Streisand: "Put it this way, the other was — you know what I mean, don't you? Spooning?" Walters: "I think so."

Streisand: "He was, like, whispering to me and whispering to me."

Walters: "Spoons. Sleeping in spoon style."

Streisand: "Yeah, sleeping like spoon style. Cuddling in bed — is that what we're talking about?" Walters: "Yeah, right."

Streisand: "OK."

Streisand: "And we're just about to fall asleep. And he says, 'I don't want to fall asleep.' And so I said, 'What?' And he says, 'Because I miss you.'"

son deals with blues in latest

YORK (AP) — Janet Jackson with a new album after a two-year hiatus with depression. She's also in touch with estranged Jackson La Toya, but has never seen her brother Michael's new baby boy.

"I was very, very sad, very down," Jackson says in the latest Newsweek magazine. "Couldn't get up sometimes."

"There were times when I felt very depressed and helpless, and I felt like there was this kind of closing in on me." Jackson says depression is not so bad these days, but it took her six months to record her new album, The Velvet, which is about twice as long as previous records.

Streisand says she and La Toya are talking again after five years, but their work commitments have kept them and Michael Jackson apart for years, so she still has not met her nephew.

"We haven't fallen out," she said. "It's strictly due to business, due to careers. But now his tour is so I'm hoping to see him and meet the baby."

try to use voice in new cartoon movie

YORK (AP) — Tim Curry creating cartoon characters' voices with a villainous set of pipes is nothing new. The difference this time: the character is a villainous set of pipes. Curry plays an evil pipe organ in The Beast: The Enchanted Christmas, a straight-to-video sequel to the animated Disney hit. The pipe organ Forte even looks a little like Curry, best known for playing Frank N. Furter in The Rocky Horror Picture Show.

"These enormous hooded eyes are such a touch in evidence," Curry says in Best Entertainment Weekly.

Curry is frequently a movie villain. Curry also co-starred with Annie Potts in Over the Top, an ABC sitcom that aired this month after airing several episodes.

To combat the economical ups and downs of on-camera acting, Curry has had a second career giving voice to characters in animated film and TV bad guys, saying it "pays for my garden." Curry also gives the theater-trained actor a chance to vocalize in ways feature films do not.

"Singing quite often in animation," Curry says, "who made three rock albums in the 1980s and plans a jazz record." Curry said, "so, it's a chance to get into the studio."

ing tells story of 10th anniversary marriage

YORK (AP) — Larry King married his tenth wife Shawn Southwick in a hospital room, then they spent their wedding night on a medevac helicopter bound for New York, where King underwent emergency surgery. Shawn slept in the bed," King said in the Nov. 15 TV Guide. "And I was reading. Our marriage was not terminated for several more days, because I went right to the hospital." King, 63, who has had heart surgery before, celebrated the September wedding with an emergency cesarean. Even King's proposal took place in a medical ward. Southwick was undergoing minor surgery when King popped the question.

Troopers rules the box office with $22 M

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The futuristic bug slayers of Starship Troopers and the bumbling Briton of Bean beat out the star power of Dustin Hoffman and John Travolta's Mad City as the three new films battled for moviegoers, according to estimates Sunday.

Starship Troopers, featuring gory intergalactic battles between humans and giant bugs, grossed an estimated $22 million in its first weekend, with a cast featuring mostly unknown TV actors.

Although the film far exceeded ticket sales of No. 2 Bean, analysts said turnout was lower than anticipated due in part to its R rating for violence and nudity.

"The fact Starship Troopers did not do as well as some people expected is probably because it kind of lost the 7- to 16-year-old audience — the lucrative audience that bought repeat tickets to Men in Black," Robert Bucksbaum, president of Reel Source, Inc., an industry newsletter, said.
