BATHROOM

The door opens, ears stand tall and listen to the creaking sound of salvation.

Finally, without consideration to line order, everyone bolts for the bowl, but only one person will be victorious in the journey.

This is yet another aspect of what goes on in a bathroom.

Cade Spell, a junior environmental design major, said the bathroom takes on more of a conversational use during parties.

"It's like when we're having a party over here, my roommate and his girlfriend have a fight and lock themselves in there," he said.

As to why the bathroom is the best place to talk, Spell said it mostly has to do with crowd control.

"Usually all the other rooms are filled," he said.

• A WHOLE NEW WORLD, OR THAT PERSONAL TOUCH

Although a bathroom is typically equipped with toilet paper, a plunger and hair spray, students find certain items help to personalize this room.

"I've got a little framed Coca-Cola advertisement on the wall," Spell said.

It's the small elements such as a poster that can add pizzazz to a bathroom, but Spell said the bathroom is unique in another manner.

"It's the one room that sees everybody naked," he said.

Even for other students, the bathroom may sometimes transform into a universe unlike anything humans have ever seen.

Cyndi Herrera, a former Texas A&M student and an employee at Bath & Body Works, said the bathroom is representational of an escape from everyday life.

"When you're actually bathing in the shower, it can be a place to relax and get things off your mind in order to be stress free," she said.

Herrera said scented candles in the bathroom are the identifiable elements that make the room her own. She also said the bathroom is a great place to take the time out for a study break.

"I always took a bath and read my chapters," she said. "It's a place where you won't be bothered."

"QUOTE OF THE DAY"

"It's not a matter of Democrats and Republicans, or even good and bad, but decent morals. This all started with sneaky tactics and betrayal and will end only when someone gets hurt. Let's hope it's not the President, or we'll be paying $2 a gallon for gas and digging through couches to find loose change to pay our tuition."

—Sophie McNeill, sophomore horticulture major
