"QUOTE OF THE DAY"

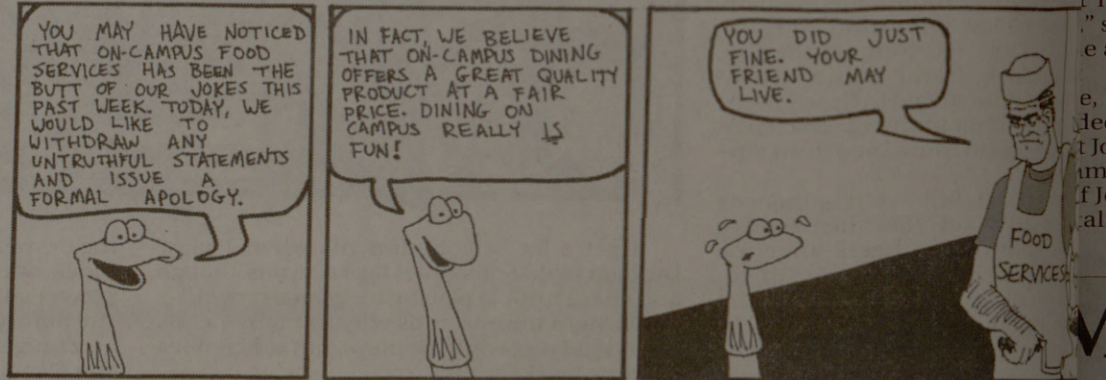

This Week's Theme: If you had to change something about Texas A&M, what would it be and why?

"One thing that should be changed about Texas A&M is the Q-drop policy. It's a cop-out. Also, we need more shrubbery."

— Jeremy Brown
Senior mechanical engineering major

Today's We Rockwell Automation

Tomorrow's technology is something that frames all our thinking today's Rockwell Automation. Because if you only focus on today's technology, you'll end up totally out of the competitive picture a few years from now.

Zoom in on us. We're looking for the visionaries, dreamers and non-stop creative thinkers who are changing the way the world controls things - from roller coasters and Broadway shows to pharmaceutical production and food processing. Join the people who are changing the way the world works today's Rockwell and get a close-up view of tomorrow. We will be on campus on:

See Rockwell Automation at: Texas A&M University

On-Campus Presentation: February 12, 1998

On-Campus Interview: February 13, 1998
Check your placement office for locations.
