Cowboys coach hunt takes unexplainable turn

Donahue spent the night at Jones' mansion after a third meeting but his hasty exit fueled speculation things didn't go well. Only Jones, sons Stephen Jones and Jerry Jones Jr., and Donahue know for sure.

Jones, who hired Jimmy Johnson and Switzer although they had no NFL coaching experience, did not return calls. He had said a new coach would be hired by mid-week, but whatever happened with Donahue seemed to rule out an imminent decision.

"There is no timetable estimate for the near future. I'm not at liberty to say whether there will be more interviews," team spokesman Rich Dalrymple said.

Jones also claims to have a "mystery" candidate he can fall back on if all else fails. And he insists he will have a coach that will have the players and fans "sitting up in their seats."

Donahue was set to fly to Indianapolis on Thursday with the Cowboys for the NFL combine and it wasn't known if that trip was still planned.

Green Bay offensive coordinator and former San Francisco coach Gene Smith had two interviews each. Lewis got two interviews at the Jones palace while Sellers was summoned there.

"I haven't talked to Jerry since last week," Smith said. "It's frustrating waiting."

Donahue had a 20-year career at the college level, won a national title as had Johnson and Switzer. He quit Jan. 9 after going 6-10 in his fourth season as the team's coach.

Donahue, who coached Cowboys coach Troy Aikman in college, resigned from the job after the 1995 season. He has been working as a sports ball analyst for CBS.

Dallas also needs an offensive coordinator to replace Ernie Zampese, who has gone to Chicago. The team hired Clarence Shelmon as running backs coach on Tuesday as running backs coach.

Joe Brodsky, who has gone to Chicago, was Minnesota's offensive coordinator last season, whose status is unresolved for next season. Donahue said he would like to come to Dallas.

Complicating the issue is the fact that Donahue is in the process of being sold to a private equity firm by Tom Clancy.

The team also announced Tuesday it had extended the contracts of defensive coordinator Dave Campo, linebackers coach Jim Bates, offensive line coach Steve Hoffman and defensive line coach Hudson Houck and special teams coach Mike Zimmer.

Donahue, 53, took UCLA to 13 bowl games and a record of 8-4-1 in the postseason games. He coached teams never won a national title, at Miami and Switzer did at Oklahoma.

In 1987, Donahue turned down a $2.5 million year offer from the Atlanta Braves to coach the Braves in California.

At the time, he also said the offer was a neat city with a great job. I don't think it's a city like that is going to be presented to me.

Dallas hires Clarence Shelmon from Seahawks as new running backs coach

DALLAS (AP) — While speculation swirled over who will become the fourth head coach in Dallas Cowboys history, the team quietly hired former Seattle Seahawks assistant Clarence Shelmon as running backs coach and re-signed five other assistants.

Shelmon spent the past six seasons as the running backs coach for the Seahawks. A University of Houston graduate, Shelmon entered the NFL in 1991 as an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams.

The team also extended the contract of offensive coordinator Dave Campo, kicking and punting coach Steve Hoffman, offensive line coach Hudson Houck and special teams coach Mike Zimmer.

Shelmon replaces Joe Brodsky, who coached the Chicago Bears.

The Cowboys also need an offensive coordinator to replace Ernie Zampese, who has gone to Chicago with New England.
