Sayre encourages any student who has experienced a Silver Taps ceremony to share their story with the Aggie community. "It's such an honor for me to be able to share my story with my fellow Aggies," she said. "It allows me to speak about the ceremony comfortably."

The Corps of Cadets is also involved in the Silver Taps ceremony anniversary. Dan Corps commander and a senior cadet, decided the Corps needed to do something for the anniversary. Beginning this school year, members of the Corps will wear dark green pants, on Silver Taps days, to honor the students about Silver Taps.

Lieutenant Colonel Mike Duke encouraged the commandant said the corps would encourage students to participate in the ceremony. "We encourage everyone, from freshmen to clubs, to find a way to honor everyone that it is Silver Taps," he said.
