AGGIE SPORTS BRIEFS

from staff and wire reports

Aggies host SHSU Men finish strong in Olsen rematch at U.S. Collegiate

After a weekend road trip to Iowa State which saw A&M take two of three from the Cyclones, the Aggies return to Olsen Field Tuesday at 7 p.m. against Sam Houston State.

The wins over the Cyclones made the Aggies' conference record 12-6 and upped their overall mark to 29-11. The victories also kept A&M ranked eleventh in the Baseball America poll.

Despite an overall record of 18-19, Sam Houston State will be looking to take its second win from the Aggies this season. The Bearkats won 10-7 Feb. 24 in Huntsville behind three shutout innings of relief from Jonathan Harraird. Courtney Weller took the loss for A&M. The loss for the Aggies made their all-time record against Sam Houston State 60-32-1.

Chris Fulbright will get the ball for A&M in the rematch. Fulbright is 1-1 on the season, with a 5.40 ERA, 10 strikeouts and 6 walks. Mark Johnson needs one more win to tally 600 wins in 14 years as head coach. Johnson trails only Tom Chandler, who he served under as an assistant, in wins by an Aggie head coach. Chandler amassed 660 victories in 26 seasons at the helm of A&M.

While the Texas A&M Baseball Team will be trying to give Johnson his 600th decision, Aggie fans will be treated to 25-Cent Hot Dog Night.

The Texas A&M Men's Golf Team found their comfort zone in the U.S. Collegiate Championships on Sunday and fired an even-par final round of 288 which was the best of the day. The team finished eighth overall in the tournament and was 32 strokes behind champion Florida State.

Miguel del Angel led A&M with rounds of 75-75-70=220 to finish tied for 15th place. Five Aggie golfers placed in the top 50 golfers overall. The Aggies will compete in the MacGregor Downs Intercollegiate in Cary, N.C., before heading to the Big 12 Championships April 27 to 28 in Hutchinson, Kan.

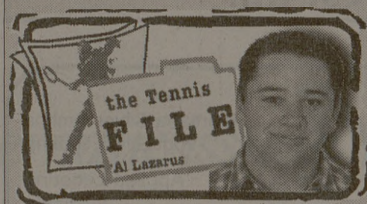

ASU/PING sends women to eighth

The 11th-ranked Texas A&M Women's Golf Team finished in eighth place on Sunday at the Arizona State/PING Invitational. The Aggies finished 60 strokes behind champion No. 8 Stanford. Texas A&M finished ahead of three ranked teams.

Senior Jamie Hullett tied for 10th place in the individual standings which ranks as her fourth-straight top-12 finish.

Sophomore Anna Becker suffered a back injury and withdrew from the final two rounds.

Madden stays perfect for men's tennis team remain undefeated at home, and they did just that. Including a make-up match with TCU on April 2, A&M finished the home-stand 6-0, and notched its overall home record to 9-0.

The Aggies will close out their home season April 18 at 6 p.m. against Kansas.

Still Going ...

Speaking of perfect records, Aggie freshman Shuon Madden has improved his to 13-0, after victories last weekend against North Carolina and Duke.

Madden, who plays in the No. 3 slot for the Aggies, was recently named Big 12 Tennis Player of the Week.

Moving On Up

The Aggies have climbed steadily in the Rolex Collegiate Rankings this season, thanks in part to their ability to do something so few teams seem to do: consistently beat lower-ranked teams.

A&M's only losses are to LSU, UT and Duke, all top-15 mainstays.
