"People are less aware that violence can also be what you say about each other," Wilson said. "Gossip can be just as destructive as carrying a gun, and adults need to learn that, too."

Frederiksen and Wilson said they hope the play will help people realize the hidden violence so easily overlooked in everyday society. "I hope people get a new awareness of what violence really is," Wilson said. "It's infused in our society, and we can see that by looking at the violence in ourselves. Controlling it in ourselves is a major step in controlling it in society."

Frederiksen said a reception will be held following the play with discussion about the play and violence issues, in addition to special literature for child abuse prevention month.

"Children see and express violence at an early age," Frederiksen said. "The play shows how all of us can take responsibility for breaking the cycle."

Late Beatle's son reveals opinion on father's

NEW YORK (AP) — Sean Lennon believes the government was behind the slaying of his father, John Lennon.

"He was a countercultural revolutionary, and the government takes that kind of (stuff) really seriously historically," the 22-year-old Lennon said in the latest New Yorker.

Mark Chapman is in prison after pleading guilty to shooting the ex-Beatle in front of his Manhattan apartment house in 1980. Chapman said he was influenced by Catcher in the Rye and a voice in his head that told him "Do it! Do it! Do it!"

Lennon, a singer himself, who believes Chapman was crazy guy who killed my dad for al interests is insane, I think, or hasn't thought about it deep.

Why would the government father dead?

"He was dangerous to the If he had said, 'Bomb the White tomorrow,' there would have been people who would have done said. "These pacifist revolution historically killed by the govern
