

NIGHT OUT

"By knowing who people are, you can watch each others' backs in case you go out of town."

National Night Out was designed to heighten crime and drug prevention awareness, generate support for local anti-crime programs, strengthen police and community relationships and let criminals know that neighborhoods are organized and are fighting back.

National Night Out began on Monday night at Post Oak Mall with the National Night Out Kick-off Party. Police were on hand to answer questions on a variety of topics.

Sponsored by the National Association of Town Watch, National Night Out is locally supported by the police departments of Bryan and College Station, as well as the Brazos County Sheriff's Office and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Herrera said, while the event has been successful, he hopes it will continue to get better.

"This has been going on here for five or six years," he said. "More participation would be great for next year."
