Women's tennis rallies for win

Win in final set gives Aggies 5-4 dual meet victory over LSU

STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

The Texas A&M Women's Tennis Team waited until the last possible minute to wrap up the win against Louisiana State University at the Varsity Tennis Center Saturday, but the Aggies came through when it counted. With the meet tied at 4-4 heading into the final doubles set of the day, the Aggies' No. 2 doubles pair of sophomore Eva Marcial and junior Kathryn Scott came back from a 6-3 deficit to pull off the 9-8 win and with it a dual-meet victory for the Aggies (2-0).

Texas A&M coach Bobby Kleinecke said he was proud of the Aggies' poise under stress.

"I am extremely happy with the way the team fought today," he said. "With our backs against the wall, they never quit and kept fighting."

In singles action, Marcial and A&M freshman Leah Killen both were victorious. In addition, junior Lisa Dingwall battled her way to a win, 5-7, 6-4, 7-6, over LSU's Bruna Colosio.

Kleinecke said Dingwall's patience over the long match was a factor in the win.

"Lisa played a great singles match," he said. "It was one of her most patient matches she has played. She waited for her opportunities, and that took a lot out of her, and she just didn't have much left for doubles."

The Aggies will again take home court when they face Southern Methodist University on Wednesday.

Aggie m... beat OS... Oklahom...

STAFF AND WIRE

The No. 14 Texas A&M Tennis Team traveled to this weekend and earned victories over the Oklahoma and Oklahoma State universities, both by a score of 5-4.

The Aggies improved all and 3-0 in Big 12 play.

"It was a good weekend for us," A&M coach Tim Cass said. "Two years ago, we lost both matches on this road trip. It's a tough stretch, but it was good to get in and get out with two conference wins."

The Aggies squared off indoors at Oklahoma City. After the doubles point, A&M won all six singles matches.
