Packers' White end to 14-year a

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — This time, Reggie White put it in writing.

The NFL's career sacks leader turned in his retirement letter to Green Bay Packers general manager Ron Wolf - and gave no indication he intends to over. I think he's had it," Packers spokesperson Lee Remmel said.

The 37-year-old White had said last season would be his last. But there had been hints the All-Pro player might change his mind after the Packers hired his longtime friend, Ray Rhodes, as new head coach, replacing Mike Holmgren.

White wound up making 16 sacks and earning Defensive Player of the Year honors in what was to be his farewell season, and that also raised speculation he might not be ready to retire.

Then came reports during the weekend that a return by White would cause trouble for the Packers in staying within the NFL salary cap.

White, an ordained minister, said last April that he intended to retire. But after repeating to Holmgren he would not come back, White said he had a revelation while having back therapy.

"God spoke to me and said you made a promise," White said at the time. "When I signed the deal last year, I signed a five-year deal with the promise that I would play for two
