Track and field runs to low finish

Women, men place 9th and 10th at Big 12 Championships

BY TOM KENNEDY
The Battalion

The good news is that the Big 12 Outdoor Championships are still three months away.

The bad news is that the Texas A&M Men's and Women's Track and Field Teams will be spending it trying to rebound from their disappointing finishes in the Big 12 Indoor Track and Field Championships in Lawrence, Kan. last weekend.

The women placed ninth overall with 46 1/2 points behind number one-ranked University of Texas, which came out on top with 150 points.

Field events were the women's main scoring threat over the weekend as senior Detrich Clariett claimed third place in the triple jump with a mark of 42 feet and 3 1/4 inches. It was her fourth provisional qualifying mark for the NCAA meet this season.

Junior Chimika Carter took fourth and freshman Shylia Williams took fifth in the long jump with leaps of 19-07 and 19-03 1/2, respectively, making the long jump one of the Aggies' biggest scoring events of the weekend.

Freshman Kendra Reimer began to fulfill expectations with a fifth place finish in the pentathlon with a point total of 3,728.

Reimer is the nation's top rated incoming heptathlete according to Track and Field News and she also owns the national high school heptathlon record.

In running events, sophomore Christina Ohaeri placed third in the 60 meter high hurdles in 8.51 seconds.

The men ended up in tenth after scoring 42 points, 71 less than the standard that meet champion Texas set with their score of 113 points.

Junior Richard McDonald led the men with his third place finish in the pole vault after clearing 17 feet and 4 1/2 inches, an NCAA provisional qualifying mark.

Sophomore Kris Allen placed 13th in the 60 meter high hurdles with a time of 9.06 seconds.

The relays provided a splash when the men's distance medley team covered their ground in 10 minutes, 17 seconds to claim fourth place in the 4x200 meter relay team also grabbed the time of 3:15.24.

Mike Hummel ran the distance medley when the men's distance medley team shuffled to take fifth in the 1,000 meters in 2:27.83.

A&M's individual provisional marks await to hear if they are among the automatic slots fill up at the Meet in Indianapolis, Ind. on Feb. 27. The outdoor season begins on Feb. 28 at College Station for the College Station followed by the College Station on Feb. 13.

Swimmers, divers finish up in fourth

STAFF AND WIRE REPORTS

The No. 24 Texas A&M Women's Swimming and Diving Team finished fourth at the 1999 Phillips 66/Big 12 Conference Championships in Austin this weekend.

The Aggies finished with a three-day total of 462.00, 419.5 points behind winner and host University of Texas.

Junior Tracy Evans captured her third consecutive Big 12 title in the 1,650-yard freestyle with a time of 16:39.35. She also won the event in 1997 (16:42.87) and 1998 (16:33.95).

Evans said her past successes gave her a psychological edge in the event.

"I had a lot of confidence going into this race because I had won it in both my freshman and sophomore years," she said. "I feel confident about my chance to make the NCAA (championship) meet in Georgia, and I look forward to ending the season with my best performance there."

Also coming up big for the Aggies was freshman Clara Ho, who set an A&M varsity record in the 200-yard butterfly with a time of 1:59.50, good for second in the event. Ho also set a Big 12 record with a time of 54.53 to win the 100-yard butterfly. Ho was named 1999 Big 12 Newcomer of the Meet, and both of her butterfly times qualified her for the NCAA Division I Championships in Athens, Ga., March 18-20.

Ho said her performances met her expectations for the meet.

"I'm so excited to have my automatic cuts and not have to wait and see the other times around the country," she said. "It was my goal-time in the 200-fly. It's been a goal of mine for at least two-and-one-half years to go under two minutes in the 200-fly."

Junior Monica Williams had strong performances all weekend, producing NCAA consideration times in the 100-yard freestyle (50.93) and 200-yard freestyle (1:50.34). Junior Monica Stroman also set a consideration time in the 200-yard breaststroke at 2:17.52.

In diving competition, A&M junior Danielle Guarneri finished second overall in the platform events behind defending champion Laura Wilkinson of Texas with a total of 634.50 points. Freshman Meghan Zack came in fifth for the Aggies with a score of 488.55.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Women to compete in "Mo" morial

The Texas A&M Women's Golf Team will find themselves in familiar territory when they begin the 1999 spring season Monday by hosting the sixth annual GTE "Mo" morial.

The tournament, which will run through Tuesday at the Pebble Creek Country Club in College Station, will begin at 8 a.m. Monday with 36 holes, 18 additional holes will be played Tuesday.

Fifteen team will compete in this year's tournament including the Aggies.

A&M has won four of the five previous events, with Louisiana State University winning in 1997.

The Aggies will be represented at the tournament by freshmen Jennifer Poth, Anna Jonsson and Mackenzie Dyslin, sophomore Mimi Epps and junior Anna Becker.

Last year Becker placed second at the "Mo" Morial behind teammate and Big 12 Player of the Year Isabelle Rosberg.

that was the dagger." UT center Chris Mihm said. "Those gave us some room to breathe."

Clay added a jumper and two free throws to make it 50-40, Texas, A&M would get no closer than within eight points the rest of the way.

Mihm finished with a game-high 17 rebounds while Cook led the Aggies with nine rebounds.

Cook finished with 19 points while Shanne Jones had 11 points.

Leatherman was the game scorer with seven points.

Clack led all players with 13 points.

Texas made 13 three-pointers in the final 10 minutes to seal the victory and lead 38 for the game.

The Longhorns scored from the floor while Cook had a season-low 29.6 percent shooting.

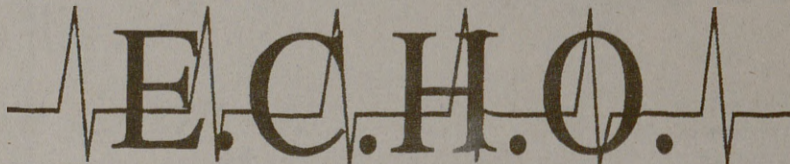

"I think that they start on us in some way," Watkins said. "But to get there and it's so close battles (between the
