Cowboys pick NFL Europe

NFL Europe ve Op

Bates, Fricke invited to

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have added former NFL Europe offensive lineman Ben Fricke and Chad Bates to fill in for several players out with injuries.
"I don't think there are any unrealistic expectations," Dallas coach Chan Gailey said yesterday. "But at the same time, I don't want them to feel like they're camp fodder."
Dallas was thin on blockers for Troy Aikman and Emmitt Smith because of injuries on three straight days to Tony Hutson, Mike Kiselak and Earl Scott. Hutson and Kiselak filled in at first-team right guard while Everett McIver recovered from knee surgery.
The Cowboys learned yesterday that Kiselak, a crucial backup because he plays guard and center, will be out for the season. An arthroscopic exam found "very extensive damage," team owner Jerry Jones said.
Fricke, a center from Houston, was drafted by the New York Giants in the seventh round last year and played for Amsterdam in the former World League. Bates, a guard who in 1997 made all-ACC for Florida, played with Fricke on the Rhein.
" They get an opportunity to show what they can do. They may be able to earn a spot on the training camp of a squad," Gailey said.
Scouting director Lacey said Fricke and Bates were high on the team's player list.
"The World League is starting to produce a little better football player than in the past, mainly because more are sending guys in. Lacey well said. "We're finding out that when you get that kind of guy at training camp, he's in so much better shape."
Lacey said the Cowboys were interested in Aikman after the former Nebraska star played high-school ball in Falls, but his agent said he retired.
To make room for Fricke and Bates, the Cowboys cut Billy Powell and running back Alan Ricard.

Celtic-Nugget deal leads NBA move

Oakley visits Lakers; Outlaw re-

AP — Charles Oakley got the Hollywood treatment from the Los Angeles Lakers yesterday, lunch with Shaquille O'Neal and Kobe Bryant and a tour of the new arena from Jerry West.
Ron Mercer was shipped from Boston to Denver, Bo Outlaw resigned with Orlando and Derek Fisher landed a seven-year contract from the Lakers, who are trying to convince Oakley to play power forward for them for $2 million.
Oakley is demanding $8.5 million annually for three years from the Toronto Raptors, who have offered $5.5 million per year.
Mercer was traded from the Celtics to the Nuggets in a six-player deal that also sent Popeye Jones and Dwayne Schintzius to Denver for Danny Fortson, Eric Washington, Eric Williams and a first-round draft choice in one of the next three years.
Fortson, a 6-foot-7 forward who ranked fourth in the NBA in rebounding last season, is going into the final season of his three-year rookie contract — just like Mercer.
Boston did not want to meet Mercer's asking price, which was believed to be in excess of $50 million for a six-year extension.
Outlaw, Orlando's wiry 6-foot-8 forward, re-signed with the Big 10 abandons plan to add 12th member

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten does not plan to add a 12th member any time soon, commissioner Jim Delany said, declaring expansion "a dead issue" just months after Notre Dame University spurned the conference.
"We haven't had any activity at all since the Notre Dame decision, no calls from presidents or athletic directors," Delany said at the annual Big Ten meeting. "I don't expect expansion in the next decade."
In February, after Notre Dame turned down the Big Ten following months of talks, Delany had said the conference might consider searching for another school. Syracuse University and the University of Missouri were mentioned as candidates.
Now, it appears the search is over.
"I'm sorry to hear him say that. I think he's wrong," Joe Paterno, coach at Penn State University, which joined the Ten in 1990, the conference's expansion year.
"There are some schools there that could probably bring a lot of life to the table or more to Notre Dame," he said, declining to offer suggestions. "You're about some of the institutions around, the all-sports programs they are, the media market they're in."
Penn State's addition was conference's first since 1990. With it, the Big Ten became the largest conference in the nation and that created scheduling problems.
A 12th team would ease some difficulties and allow the conference to hold a lucrative championship, just as the SEC and Big 12 have done.
