Gailey couldn't hold composure during Cowboys' comeback

IRVING (AP) — Other than preferring a baseball cap to a fedora, Chan Gailey's sideline demeanor is pretty similar to the stone-faced stoicism of Tom Landry.

But as the Dallas Cowboys erased a 21-point deficit to beat the Washington Redskins 41-35 in overtime Sunday, Gailey turned Jimmy Johnson-like — whooping, hollering, backslapping and even jumping with joy.

Gailey was still riding that emotional wave Monday as he discussed how the season-opening victory, and the way it happened, will help the team over the next 15 games.

"We talk about don't quit, you can come back, if they can score 20 in the third quarter you can score 21 in the fourth quarter, but until you do it and see it and feel it and it happens, you're not sure," Gailey said. "Now, they realize they can't. I'm not sure you can put a value on that."

"For the rest of the rest of the year, we can say, 'We're not out of it.' We have proof. It gives you that extra sense of confidence."

Cowboys coaches had to pull out all their comeback cliches after Dallas gave up 32 straight points, turning a 14-3 lead into a 35-14 deficit going into the fourth quarter.

Then came the stuff coaches preach can happen but hardly ever does: a 70-yard touchdown drive, a recovered onside kick, a 66-yard touchdown march, a 90-yard touchdown drive without any timeouts that was helped by four defensive penalties, the game-tying extra point lead into a 35-14 deficit going into the fourth quarter.

ricocheting in off the left upright, a botched field goal by Washington and, finally, a 76-yard bomb from Troy Aikman to a wide-open Raghib Ismail for the victory.

The touchdown triggered a wild celebration that didn't include Gailey. Amazed by what he had seen, Gailey stood bent at the waist, clutching his knees until he regained his composure.

He maintained it until halfway through his news conference yesterday, when he was explaining what the him: that he can't throw the long ball and he can't rally the Cowboys the way Roger Staubach did.

None of those critics were in the Dallas huddle. Teammates believed in Aikman the way the Denver Broncos knew John Elway would carry them. He responded by erasing a bigger deficit than Staubach ever did, matching Danny White's team-record recovery in 1984 against New Orleans.

"There was never a sense of panic," Gailey said. "He knew what we were able to do and what we were trying to do."

On the final play, the Redskins expected the Cowboys to run on third-and-2 from their 24. Gailey gambled with a bit of reverse psychology.

"You've got to make some of those calls sometimes," he said. "I thought our defense was starting to get back into it and we could still win even if we didn't make it there. I felt the reward was worth the risk."

Ismail's catch was the longest of his career and the longest touchdown Aikman had thrown in the regular season since an 80-yarder against Washington in the 1993 opener. It gave Aikman his first five-TD game since high school.

"I think this says a lot for the organization, it says a lot for the coaches and players to have guys that keep battling and keep playing," Aikman said. "You don't want to get 21 points down every week, but I think the way we were able to come back says a lot."

Gailey rewarded the team by giving them yesterday off in addition to their usual Tuesday break. The Cowboys have an extra day anyway because their next game is Monday night at home against Atlanta.
