Convicted killer executed for '86 rape, killing spree

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Convicted killer Jerry McFadden was executed yesterday for the rape-slaying of an 18-year-old northeast Texas woman, one of three people killed during a daylong murder spree in 1986.

McFadden, who nicknamed himself "Animal," made no final statement. He was pronounced dead at 6:16 p.m., eight minutes after the flow of lethal drugs began.

One of the needles in McFadden's right arm was placed just above a large tattoo of a satanic face.

The mother of victim Suzanne Denise Harrison burst into tears as she entered the death chamber, crying out, "He looked at me." Then she turned away and said, "He took our children."

The victim's brother, Craig Harrison, got as close to the window as he could to see McFadden gasp and sputter twice. Then he remarked, "He's gutless," and called him an obscenity.

Immediately after McFadden stopped breathing, Harrison said, "It's done. I'm ready to go home."

The discovery of the three victims from Hawkins, in Wood County about 100 miles east of Dallas, and subsequent arrest of McFadden, on parole after three rape convictions, made the former telephone cable installer one of the region's most notorious criminals.

The burly, long-haired, tattoo-covered McFadden enhanced the reputation when he broke out of the Upshur County Jail before his capital murder trial.

He took a female jailer hostage and for three days evaded one of the most intense manhunts in Texas history. A dragnet involved some 1,200 officers before McFad-

U.S. marshalls capture man suspected in molestations

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A man suspected in a string of child molestations in East Texas and San Antonio has been captured at a motel in Wichita Falls.

Adrian Rosales, 24, was caught after trying to sell his story over the Internet, investigators say. U.S. marshalls intercepted the message and found Rosales.

He is suspected of trying to kidnap a 10-year-old girl in a San Antonio hotel elevator on Aug. 13.

Police said a man sneaked up behind the child, smacked her over the head with a steel pipe and tried to stuff her into a 5-foot duffel bag. The girl escaped.

When police reached the hotel, they found a stun gun, duct tape, a metal pipe and children's clothes in Rosales' duffel bag and vehicle, authorities said. They also reported finding video tapes in which Rosales allegedly exposed himself to children.

Police arrested Rosales last night on suspicion of another kidnapping.

He posted bond four days later and disappeared.

The following day, a grand jury indicted him on an upgraded charge of aggravated kidnapping.

A Tyler judge issued a warrant accusing the suspect of indecency with a 12-year-old girl.

Rosales also was arrested on a child indecency case in Bexar County in 1993. That charge was dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

San Antonio police said Rosales to be returned to face charges of aggravated kidnapping, attempted aggravated kidnapping and injury to a

"In an office environment we all work closely together," she said. "Teamwork, communication and respect is very important. Sometimes we overlook the qualities in our bosses, and therefore we don't appreciate what we have."

Sheila Fields, luncheon coordinator, said TAPSS promotes networking and mentoring for A&M's staff. The organization also initiates ideas and promotes concepts that contribute to enhanced service, teaching and research at the University.

Dr. Dennis L. Christiansen, deputy director of the Texas Transportation Institute, will be the keynote speaker for the event. The luncheon costs $15, and reservations need to be made in advance.
