Beauty, Carrey win Golden Globes

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — American Beauty, a dark fable of life in suburbia, captured the Golden Globes for best drama, director and screenplay Sunday night, while Toy Story 2 was judged the best comedy movie.

Denzel Washington's portrayal of a boxer wrongly convicted of murder and Jim Carrey's uncanny impersonation of the late comic Andy Kaufman won top movie actor honors as real-life stories ruled at the awards ceremony.

played a young woman who was killed after her masquerade as a man was discovered.

British actress Janet McTeer won best actress in a musical or comedy film for her performance as a Southern mom in Tumbleweeds.

Tom Cruise of Magnolia and Angelina Jolie of Girl, Interrupted won motion picture supporting actor honors.

All About My Mother, from Spanish filmmaker Pedro Almodovar, won the foreign-language movie award.

A poignant moment in the television categories came when Michael J. Fox was named best actor for the comedy "Spin City," which he announced he is leaving because of his fight against Parkinson's disease. But he handled it lightly.

"Actor out of work — news at 11," Fox said.

"The Sopranos," which won few major awards at the Emmys last year, was named best drama series and dramatic acting trophies went to Edie Falco and James Gandolfini. The acclaimed mob drama also earned a supporting actress trophy for Nancy Marchand.

HBO's other winners were "Sex and the City" as best TV comedy, its star Sarah Jessica Parker as best actress, RKO 281 as best miniseries or made-for-TV movie and Halle Berry as best actress in a miniseries for "Introducing Dorothy Dandridge."

"In the spirit of Ving Rhames I'm going to give this to Jack Lemmon," Lemmon said, lightheartedly recalling the year in which winner Rhames gave his trophy to Lemmon.

Peter Fonda was TV's best supporting actor, for the Showtime miniseries "Passion of Ayn Rand."

American Beauty was the leading movie contender going into this year's Golden Globes, a ceremony which can serve as a bellwether for the upcoming Oscars.

The film had six nominees, including actress Annette Bening and actor Kevin Spacey.

Barbra Streisand, winner of more Golden Globe trophies than any other entertainer, including best actress for Funny Girl and A Star is Born, received the Cecil B. DeMille Award for "outstanding contribution to the entertainment field."

The tribute, which forced presenter Shirley MacLaine to vamp when the TelePrompTer did not work, chewed up a lengthy chunk of the slow-paced show's last hour.

"Someone asked me recently if they should be an actor and I said, 'If you have to ask then the answer is no, because the only reason to choose that life for yourself is because you feel passionate about it, because you have no other choice,'" Streisand said.

Some movies that received awards buzz were largely ignored. They included The Green Mile starring Hanks, Anna and the King with Jodie Foster, and Angela's Ashes starring Emily Watson. Stanley Kubrick's final film, Eyes Wide Shut, received just one nomination, for best score.

contradictory statements, and lies.

The Internet is an even more interesting way of letting people know one stands on the important side. Never before has there been ready supply of technology access to an infinite amount of information. Yet, for the individuals who utilize the Internet as the source tomorrow, a question arises: How one go about receiving more visits, to the Web page?

This is a time in which individuals can actually learn from their being enticed and baited by the. Simply advertise! Make powerful statements to draw attention of onlookers. A few words have been successful in thousands of hits daily with sites titles as, "My own interpretation of the 4th Amendment, its implications, and mainline function in society ... and naked pictures."

Some of the country's best personalities attained their position in the limelight by letting their known; personalities such as Jesse Ventura: "I'm willing that gambling is almost as deplorable as ethnic slurs."

While there are many ways to express views and tastes concerning issues or culture, undoubtedly the best way for one to present and strengthen one's opinion is by them accordingly — in what one preaches. Otherwise opinion is hardly worth the trouble to express them.
