Aggie softball prepares for Southwest Texas

BY BREE HOLZ
The Battalion

The Texas A&M Softball Team prepares for action as it heads to San Marcos to take on the Southwest Texas State University Bobcats at 7 p.m.

The Bobcats are 18-8 this year and 12-5 at home. Their top pitcher, Jessica Chase, has a 13-5 record and a 1.16 ERA.

A&M coach Jo Evans said the Aggies will have to be on top of their game, especially offensively, to defeat SWT.

"Teams are only hitting .200 against Jessica Chase," she said.

"We know we're going to have to play well against them, and our hitters are going to have to be very disciplined at the plate."

A&M's big gun, junior pitcher Amy Vining (11-4), will get the start for the Aggies today.

"We have a lot of confidence in Amy," Evans said. "She's been throwing great, and she knows what has to be done to get the win."

SWT defeated the University of Texas 3-0 in Austin on March 1.

"We can't overlook [Southwest Texas]," Evans said. "That win against UT was huge for them. They're going to come in thinking that they can beat us, so we need to play this game with a lot of intensity."

Evans said SWT tends to be overlooked because of its past reputation.

"This is their first year to really play well," she said. "In the past, they've been a team we didn't have to pay much attention to, but they've really built up their program and are beating great teams now."

The Aggies (16-7) placed second last weekend in the Aggie Invitational II. They finished the double-round robin tournament at 5-1, with their only loss at the hands of the University of New Mexico.

Women's golf finishes sixth at GTE "MO" morial

BY JASON LINCOLN
The Battalion

The field was too strong for the Texas A&M University women's golf team Tuesday. The Aggies placed sixth out of 16 in their host meet, the GTE "Mo" morial at Pine Forest Country Club in Houston.

Weather and inexperience in the final day combined to spell the fate of the Aggies. The team entered the last day's 18 holes in sixth place after scoring 317 and 307 during Monday's 36 holes.

The Aggies started their final 18 strong, yet struggled through windy conditions on the par-72 course to finish with a score of 321 for a 54-hole total of 945.

The final day's drop-off was not severe enough for the Aggies to lose their grasp on sixth place, but also was not the finish Texas A&M women's golf coach Jeanne Sutherland had been expecting.

"We were 14-over par on the last three holes as a team," Sutherland said. "That's pretty much the story of the day for us. Our finish prevented us from catching those in front."

Four Big 12 Conference opponents finished ahead of the Aggies, leaving A&M with some catching up to do before postseason.

The University of Missouri led the field with 928, successfully defending its 1999 win at the "Mo" morial.

Other Big 12 finishers included Baylor University in second with the University of Oklahoma in fifth with 939, the University of Nebraska fifth with 942.

Northwestern University upset Big 12 sweep of the medals, coming third with 933.

"I think all the teams really enjoyed the course," Sutherland said. "We had a great field."

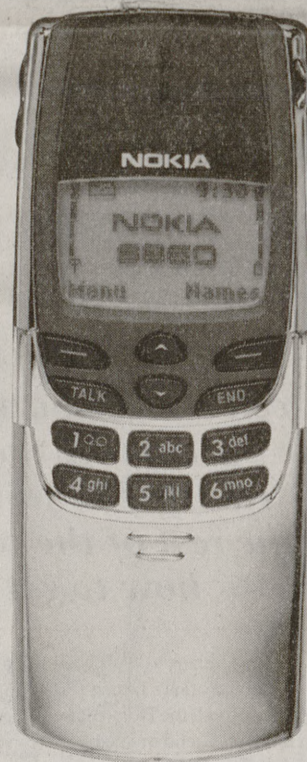

Admit it. You're already taking a shine to it.
