BYX holds sixth Island Party

BY KIMBERLY OLSON

Between 10,000 and 11,000 people attended the sixth annual Island Party, hosted free of charge by the Brothers Under Christ (BYX) fraternity Saturday.

"We wanted to show the campus and the community the abundant life there is through Jesus Christ," said Dean Pickard, Island Party chairperson and a senior bioenvironmental science major. "A relationship with Him is there for everyone. It's a free gift."

Aggie football players Jason Webster, Chris Valletta, and Cornelius Anthony spoke throughout the day about the way their relationship with Christ has changed their lives.

"It was fun, but the party also provided the opportunity to share the message of Jesus Christ's love for us," said Julia Thomas, a sophomore journalism major.

Christian bands Waterdeep, Priesthood, Nickel and Dime, and Stephen Mark Pasch performed.

Hope Sanchez, a sophomore math major, said the live music was her favorite aspect of the day.

"I had never been exposed to a variety of Christian music before," she said. "I learned there are different ways of worshipping Christ through music."

"Priesthood was the hit of the day," Pickard said. "They got everyone fired up."

While listening to music and praising the Lord, students studied, talked, slept or tanned in the sun.

In addition to speakers and music, there were inflatable games and a rock-climbing wall to entertain Island Party attendees. Others engaged in frisbee, soccer, baseball or kite flying.

Before arriving at Island Party, Sanchez was not sure about what to expect.

"I am glad I went. It was nice, and it gave me a chance to glorify the Lord," she said.

Jose Alvarez, a member of BYX and a sophomore economics major, supported Island Party because he wanted to reach those who are not believers in Christ.

"I know Christ and the joy I have in Him," he said. "I want to share that joy of the Gospel with others."

News in Brief

Driver flees scene after rolling over

College Station police are investigating an accident involving a Ford Explorer that occurred Friday night west of the city on F.M. 60.

The Explorer was traveling eastbound in the right lane of F.M. 60 when the driver lost control of the vehicle and rolled its roof. The occupants of the Explorer had been at a Chillifest in Snook.

According to the report, the other occupant of the car had been drinking and did not sustain injuries in the accident.

The unknown driver of the Explorer reportedly fled the scene of the accident prior to the arrival of emergency response vehicles.

Come learn what your government does not want you to know about UFOs. . .

Using the Freedom of Information Act, several UFO research organizations have recently obtained once-secret government documents concerning "flying saucers". These, and other newly-declassified documents reveal that UFOs do exist and, further, indicate that the U.S. Government has been engaged in a massive cover-up designed to keep the facts from the public.
