ws in Brief in found n apartment

Station police have ress in the investigadeath of Dorisela Rodear-old College Station autopsy results deterat Roman, who was ad in her apartment morning, died of a sint wound.

partments, where Rowent to check on Robeing called by connily members.

s 3-year-old son was the apartment unhe child was admitted lege Station Medical observation and will over to child protective when he is released.

ine tradition ntinue Sat.

oot line" tradition at ball games will continuous game Satur. Class of 2001 will go ack at halftime for ayer. Afterward, the senior o outside the team end the football players through the line for the theast gate will be open time and is the only gate which participating seenter and exit the field, ne team is on the field, participants must exit ely because the northwill close five minutes liftime ends.

CEO Engineering Care s, co-ops and interns for 3 p.m. at Reed Arena Center will be hostingor on-campus interviewing Rudder 302 (liberal and 4:15 p.m. Koldus 111 er Center will be hosting Search Strategies in Koldus 111.

Justin Henson (left) and Erin Toomey

(right) photographed by

CHAD ADAMS/THE BATTALION

Thursday

er Center will be hosting in for on-camus interview Idus 110 (Life Science and 5 p.m. Koldus 110

r Center will be hosting Success Event at 7 p.m Theater.

your Mary Kay ruty Consultant

FREE
famour & Facial FREE

Make Overs

l for appointment. availability limited all 979-821-2821

rs. 7 days a week.

ng 3 Friends and seive a "free gift". Purchases Required

ATTALIO!

An Autor in Carlot in City Editor Mohiuddin, City Editor Luna, Graphics Editor Donne, Sports Editor Editor

(ISSN #1055-4726) is published daily, Mo juring the fall and spring semesters and Mo during the summer session (except University periods) at Texas A&M University, Period College Station, TX 77840, POSTMASTE: 1 to The Battailion, Texas A&M University, 11119 X 77863-11111 to The Battalion, Texas A&M University, 1111 lab.

X 77843-1111.

or news department is managed by students also in the Division of Student Media, a unit of the purpose of the Division of Student Media, a unit of the purpose of the Division of Student Media, a unit of the purpose of the Division of Advertising does not imply sports of the Battalion. For campus, local, and nation 4845-2696. For classified advertising, call 845-268 as the in O15 Reed McDonald, and office hours all onday through Friday, Fax: 845-2678.

part of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Student Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services Fee entities each size in Control of the Services

- AGGIElife

THE BATTALION

Raver Chic

Techno fashion escapes from nightclubs to run wild on the streets

By Anne Hoar
The Battalion

The look born late at night to the pulse of techno music is crossing over to everyday fashion. The big, bright, bold look once reserved for ravers dancing all night long can be seen on people cruising the mall.

Julie Quintero, a sophomore journalism major, said she has seen more people on the street wearing the same clothing items she sees at raves.

"A lot of the styles have really crossed over into everyday fashion," Quintero said. "All different kinds of people are wearing brighter colors and T-shirts with '80s logos

"I think that beads have translated to the most diverse kinds of people. Everyone from little girls to Ricky Martin is wearing beaded bracelets."

The look is similar for men and women. Pants are big, shirts are bright, toys are accessories, shoes are comfortable, and hair is anything but conservative.

PANTS

"Phat pants," wide-leg pants with circumferences from 30 to 69 inches, are one of the most recognizable trademarks of the rave scene.

Justin Henson, a junior biomedical science major, said the style of phat pants worn at raves depends on whether the person is into the music or the look.

"The new kids that are into it because it's trendy wear phat pants with lots of pockets, snaps and straps," Henson said. "The ravers who are there for the music and know how to dance, wear phat pants — the phatter the better. The style is simpler — dark denim and khaki chinos are the most popular styles."

SHIRTS

The characters that you watched on Saturday- morning cartoons are back — on the T-shirts of ravers.

Retro images such as cereal box characters like Cap'n Crunch and cartoons like Mighty Mouse are popular T-shirt icons.
"T-shirts with old-school logos such as Atari or Thundercats look good under the lights at raves because of the bright colors in their designs," Henson said.

Erin Toomey, a senior biomedical engineering major, said she prefers to wear tank tops at raves because they are more comfortable.

"Tank tops are easier to dance in, and you still look good," Toomey said.

Don't worry, you can bring your toys with you to the rave. Anything you can play with is an appropriate accessory. Cell phones, pacifiers, glow sticks and other reflective things are all part of the ensemble.

Ravers pile on as many beaded bracelets and necklaces as possible.

"Making beaded necklaces and bracelets and trading them is really big right now," Toomey said. "Trading all your bracelets away and wearing new ones that other people have given you is something people brag about."

Belts are one item for which there is a dramatic difference in style for men and women. Men wear simple nylon belts, while women opt for oversized belts made of pleather or suede.

SHOES

Basic sneakers that are easy to dance in and might have come out of Run DMC's closet are the shoes of choice for ravers.

"Old-school Addidas is seen the most," Toomey said. "The style that has a rubber shell tip of a bright color, such as blue."

HAIR

Hair is another avenue of expression for ravers.

Guys' hair is spiked and dyed blue, pink, green or yellow. "Girls have a lot of different things they can do with their hair," Toomey said. "I like to wear mine in a ponytail or pigtails and try different colors.

"Hair accessories are really big, everything from glitter to disco balls and tiaras."

Visors are essential for keeping the sweat out of your eyes during a heated dance while still looking sharp. Cartoon characters and athletic logos are frequent visor toppers.

Host A Company

Company Sign-Ups

Sun. Sept. 10th

Starting at 12 noon outside B.S.C. office in Wehner Bldg.

Come early, many will be waiting

Career Fair website: http://wehner.tamu.edu/bsc