Former students look for speakers

The Association of Former Students is looking for Aggies to speak at about 350 Muster ceremonies throughout the world.

Speakers share their experiences of the Texas A&M campus and the current state of the Aggie spirit.

The Association of Former Students will send the different Muster groups around the world a Muster packet containing a list of all potential speakers.

From that list, Muster groups can contact a potential speaker and ask that person to speak at their Muster ceremony.

Potential speakers have the right to decline the invitation.

The Association of Former Students will reimburse up to half of the travel expense costs.

Those interested may contact the Association of Former Students until the week of Muster, which is held on April 21 of each year.

News in Brief

TAPSS creates mentor program

The Texas A&M Association of Professional Support Staff (TAPSS) mentor program will host Staff Helping Staff Networking Event in 206 Memorial Student Center at noon Thursday.

The program, in its first year, is trying to create the first mentor program for new A&M staff and faculty.

Mentors help new staff and faculty members adjust to the A&M culture and offer advice.

Laura Ampol-Hall, co-chairwoman of the TAPSS mentor program and the administrative assistant for the Academy for Advanced Telecommunications and Learning Technologies, said the meeting will include the mentor/mentee relationship among staff members, the importance of the mentoring program and the goals for the organization.

All mentors are TAPSS members, but mentees are not initially required to be a part of the group.

Multicultural Services Dept. hosts awareness week

The Multicultural Services Department is hosting an Awareness Week Sept. 18-22 to educate students about the different services and programs offered by the department. The week will be highlighted by an open house and a silent auction Friday in the Memorial Student Center.

Resource tables will be set up by Rudder Fountain and the Wehner College of Business Building this week. Trivia games and the auction will be held at the open house.

Information on several student organizations associated with the Multicultural Services Department, including Minority Enrichment and Development Through Academic and Leadership Skills (MEDALS) and the Southwestern Black Student Leadership Conference (SBSLC), will be available at open house.

The organizations associated with the department are competing to attract as many visitors to the open house as possible. The organization that attracts the most visitors will win a prize from the department.

Southwest Parkway partially closed today

Southwest Parkway in College Station will be partially closed today as city crews apply a seal coat to the road. Crews will apply a new layer of asphalt and stone material from Wehner Road to Welsh Avenue.

Beginning at 9 a.m., one eastbound and one westbound lane of Southwest Parkway will be closed while the seal is applied.

About noon, the crew will switch sides and seal the remaining lanes.

The repairs are expected to be finished by 4 p.m., and all lanes will be reopened.

Drivers are asked to be cautious around the work area, obey all traffic signs and watch out for workers.
