This month has felt like an eternity for Baylor, which has been shut out in three straight games. The Bears (2-5, 0-4 Big 12) have not scored in 192 minutes — since Darrell Bush scored on a 1-yard run with 12:11 left in a 31-17 loss to Iowa State on Sept. 30.

To make things worse, Baylor has only now gotten into the meat of its ferent quarterbacks. Cicero complet-

"But that still doesn't ease the pain of the present of what all of these injuries have caused."

The biggest injury was to Greg Cicero, the quarterback hand-picked 1.800.SUNCHASE by Steele after the Bears went 1-10 a Cicero broke his collarbone on the opening series of the game against Minnesota. He is the most notable of five offensive starters who have been injured on a unit that was already lacking for depth.

Since Cicero was injured, Baylor's offense has been out of sync with two freshmen among three difed 19 of 30 passes for 228 yards in limited action. The trio replacing him is combined 76-of-201 passing (38 percent) for 886 yards and eight interceptions.

That will not solve the problems of this season.

al Championship in diving. In the Big 12 Relays on Friday, the A&M swimming teams will face teams from Kansas, Iowa State, Missouri and Texas. The meet is made up of only relay races and will include several relays that are not held in normal meets. "It is a really fun event," Holmes said. "We have seen guys swim above themselves in the middle of a relay when they knew others are counting on them.'

Holmes said that, since this is the first conference meet, teams will use the meet to see where the other Big 12 teams are and how good their swimmers will be.

The team competing in the Big 12 relays that everyone will be trying to beat is Texas. The Texas women finished ninth in the NCAA championships in 2000, while the men are
