Taiwan's leader will not change plans for speech

HOUSTON (AP) — Amid threats of protests, Taiwanese President Chen Shui-bian plans to deliver a personal message to supporters of his country's independence.

Part of a showdown between pro-independence supporters and opponents is expected to be at Enron Field during a Houston Astros game.

Protesters organized by the Greater Houston Supporting One China Alliance plan to confront Chen's supporters, many described as advocates of Taiwan's independence, outside a Katy Freeway restaurant where he is scheduled to dine Sunday with House Majority Whip Tom DeLay, R-Sugar Land.

Opponents also say they plan to tell DeLay that his mistake of receiving Chen has cost him future support among the Chinese community.

Both groups are buying tickets to block hundreds of seats, for the Astros game that night, to make their feelings known about the Taiwanese head of state. Chen was scheduled to attend the Astros game with DeLay.

But supporters of Chen reportedly are planning for a small aircraft to hover above the ball field have hired an airplane with a welcoming banner at the stadium.

Despite a protest letter received from the One China Alliance, DeLay's office told the Houston Chronicle he will not change his plans. The subdivisions represents more than 30 Chinese organizations in America, Greater Houston area.

Members of the alliance started to run a full-page advertisement in local Chinese language newspapers to urge all Chinese to support Chen's scheduled trip to Houston Saturday and Sunday.

Chen supporters have been meeting weekly to organize their activities for a possible confrontation, have near the Doubletree Hotel Post Oak, where Chen is staying.

Taiwan has been regaining Chinese officials as a province after defeating the nationalist party Kuomintang army that fled to Taiwan in 1949, and vows to reclaim land there, which unofficially has been ruled by the nationalists since the end of the mainland.

Police investigate man's confession to armed robbery

DALLAS (AP) — Confessions to dozens of heists by a convicted robber now serving a federal prison sentence are being reviewed by law officers.

They say John Orville Norman frustrated investigators by successfully pulling off heists at golf shops and other businesses around the country and then disappearing.

The Texas Rangers and FBI, following a lengthy investigation and cooperation by other law enforcement agencies, are moving closer to solving more than five dozen crimes they say Norman had admitted completing in Texas and throughout the United States.

The scope of confessed heists puts Norman beyond the activities of a normal bandit, his attorney said.

"In my judgment, he's one of the last true gangsters of this part of the country, and now he's retired," said attorney George Milner III.

Norman, 59, is serving two consecutive life sentences in a federal prison after pleading guilty last year to federal armed robbery and federal weapons charges in connection with a heist at an Ennis golf shop.

Norman's attorney and investigators said the suspect, who used the Dallas area as his home base, admitted during a series of interviews to being one of North Texas' most prolific armed robbers, confessing to 65 crimes across the country.

Of those, 28 were Texas robberies. Norman described handcuffing his victims in many instances. His lawyer said the offenders, at least one robbery, Norm persuaded the victims to provide them with stolen goods into his custody.

Thirty-one of the crimes, officers say, were armed robberies of golf equipment stores such as Edwin Watts, Pro Discount Stores, Las Vegas Golf and Nevada Bob's. Norman told investigators the robbery became his way of life.

"That's all his job was," Texas Ranger Sgt. James Welch said. "He would do it every day."

Welch and FBI Special Agent Ron Watson had reviewed details and attempted to independently verify about the crimes Norman had committed since the investigators at 22 FBI offices nationwide will now clear the unsolved cases.

"As near as we can tell, we're going to clear 62 of Norman's robberies," son said.
