Burning desire

John Comstock shows off his new "13th Man" tattoo. At a press conference Monday, Comstock discussed how his injuries have changed his approach to campus life. "Coming back with a disability — learning the campus ramp-wise — will be the hardest part of coming back," Comstock said.

Toshiba plans to cut 17,000 jobs

TOKYO (AP) — Toshiba Corp. is slashing 17,000 jobs, or about 9 percent of its work force, in the next three years, joining a growing list of Japanese manufacturers forced to cut jobs amid a global downturn in demand for electronics.

The Tokyo-based company said Monday it now expects to post a loss for the year instead of a previously forecast profit.

"As a manager I feel a heavy responsibility," Toshiba president Tadashi Okamura told reporters. "My mission is to revive the company and ensure everyone develops a strong sense of crisis."

While acknowledging the company was in talks with various companies, Okamura refused to give specifics and refused comment on media reports that Toshiba was in talks with Infineon Technologies of Germany to merge their memory-chip businesses, an area that has especially suffered in the recent slump.

A spokesman for Infineon, who declined to be identified, confirmed late Monday that the companies were discussing possible cooperation between their memory-chip units, but he declined to say how far the talks have progressed.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Missile fired at bus kills at least fifty

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — Gunmen fired a missile at a passenger bus and then sprayed the vehicle with gunfire, killing at least 50 people, including several children, news reports said Monday.

The attack occurred Friday in northwestern Angola, Roman Catholic radio station Ecclesia said, citing local police. Many of the bodies were charred or blown to pieces in the attack, making accurate victim count difficult.

No one has claimed responsibility but UNITA rebels or bandits are thought to have carried out the attack, which occurred on a highway near the city of Malanje, 250 miles east of Angola's capital, Luanda.
