SWEPT

Munsch, in the starting lineup for the second straight game, had another solid game. She finished tied for the team lead in kills with 11 and led the team in hitting at .438.

"She's just a phenomenal athlete who learns quickly and has a great feel for the game," Corbelli said. "I think she's one of those types of players that was born to play volleyball."

With the Aggies ahead two games to none, they cruised to victory in the third. A&M opened up a nine point lead at 27-18 and held on to close the match out.

Baylor's Stevie Nich had a team and match high kills, followed by Kenon tallied 11.

Cole tied for the A&M lead in kills with 11, added digs and hit .429.

"I feel great," Cole said. "You have to after a win that. As an outside hitter, I felt a little off my game in Missouri so I spent some working after practice and just really came out tonight. Jenna [Moscovic] was set better. It was beautiful. I set up. I really think that helped offense a lot."

The Aggies return to Big action Sunday when they travel to Ames, Iowa, to take on Iowa State Cyclones.

NOTEBOOK

from the Irish's home state of Indiana. Irish flanker David Givens could possibly be matched up against his former high school teammate, A&M cornerback Sammy Davis. The two played together at Humble High School.

Wrecking Crew comes alive

Last week, after a stern speech from A&M football head coach R.C. Slocum, the Aggie defense returned to their Wrecking Crew form and dominated the Oklahoma State Cowboys on Saturday. The Aggie defensive unit racked up six sacks against the Cowboys, and held OSU to only 64 yards rushing. The six sacks were the highest since the Aggies tallied 10 against Texas Tech in 1995.

Non-conference opponents welcome

The Aggies welcome the Irish to Kyle Field, where the Aggies have not lost a non-conference game since Slocum has been at the helm. A&M is a perfect 27-0 at home against non-conference opponents since 1989.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

QB Carter's thumb will keep him out

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Carter rolled right, cocked his arm and threw. The pass was supposed to go about 20 yards instead slipped out the back of his hand and landed near his feet. All Carter could do was put his hands on his hips.

The thumb injury that kept Carter from playing quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys last weekend was still bothering him so much Wednesday that coach Dave Campo said Anthony Wright will likely start a second straight start Sunday night against Philadelphia.

Wright threw for 193 yards and three touchdowns in a 21-21 loss to San Diego on Sunday. In the opener, Carter, a rookie, threw for only 34 yards and two touchdowns, a 10-6 loss to Tampa Bay. Both comebacks cost turnovers — three interceptions and a lost fumble for Wright, two interceptions and a lost fumble for Carter.

Carter injured the outside of his right thumb Sept. 12 when he banged it on a teammate's helmet. He didn't throw again until last Wednesday, but so much that his hand was swollen the next day, limiting him to only a few throws.
