Ags seek repeat at ITA tourney

By KEVIN ESPENLAUB
THE BATTALION

The first Intercollegiate Tennis Association Championship of the season will take place next week, and the Texas A&M women's tennis team will be sending seven players to Los Angeles to join the competition.

The ITA Riviera All-American competition, hosted by the Riviera Tennis Club for the 19th year, is divided into 3 stages of qualification. The first stage is a pre-qualifying round, which is being played at the University of California-Los Angeles (UCLA) on Oct. 6 and 7.

Aggies competing in singles play will be seniors Leah Killen, Martina Nedorostova, and Majorie Terburgh, junior Ashley Hedberg and sophomore Roberta Spencer.

The tournament features one of the toughest fields in college tennis.

"This tournament is probably the strongest, compared to the NCAA Championships, of the year," said women's tennis coach Bobby Kleinecke. "Our main focus going into this tournament is the team and to help ourselves play better for when the spring team season comes around."

"A good showing at this tournament can help individual rankings that will affect our team ranking going into next semester."

The doubles teams of seniors Olivia Karlikova and Spencer and Hedberg and Nedorostova will also compete in the pre-qualifying round. Winners will advance to the qualifying round.

Karlikova and sophomore Jessica Roland have earned a bye in the pre-qualifying round and begin singles competition in the qualifying round October 9 and 10 at the Riviera Tennis Club.

The doubles team of Roland and Terburgh will also automatically advance to the second round.

No Aggies have earned a bye into the first round, or Main Draw competition, that will take place Oct. 11-14.

Byes are based on individual rankings and include the top 10-ranked players in women's intercollegiate competition.

Spots in the upper two stages are also reserved for players who advance from competition in the lower levels.

The best showing at an ITA tournament last year for the Aggies was by the doubles team of Roland and Hedberg who advanced to the semifinals of the Main Draw before being defeated in three sets by the then top-ranked duo of Paola Palencia and Ipek Senoglu from Pepperdine University.

Their trip to the final-four was the farthest any A&M women's players in the history of the tournament.

The next competition for the women's team will be the ITA Southwest Regional taking place in Fort Worth, Texas the weekend of Oct. 19th-22nd.

"A good showing at this tournament can help individual rankings that will affect our team going into the next semester"

BAYLOR

4-0 to the Cornhuskers. In their second Big 12 game, the Bears fell 2-1 in overtime to Iowa State. It was the first time Baylor had lost to the Cyclones.

While freshman forward Linsey Johnson has been outstanding for the Aggies, Baylor has its own freshman phenomenon in forward April Robertson. Robertson is leading the Bears with five goals, but she did not score a goal in either of the Bear's Big 12 games.

Before the showdown with Baylor, the Aggies first face the Houston Cougars tonight.

The Cougars are 2-5-1 and 1-3 in Conference USA, but Guerrieri said his team can not overlook them.

"We don't look at it that way," Guerrieri said. "If you look at it that way, Colorado wasn't a very good team. It will be a huge game for them and they will play very hard and physical."

Colorado upset the Aggies by tying them 2-2 in Boulder last Sunday. They came into the game with a record of 1-5.

The Aggies had tough road trips during the last two weeks, facing No. 4 Portland and No. 14 Washington at the Husky/Nike Invitational and then opening Big 12 play at Texas Tech and Colorado.

However, the Aggies managed to escape with a 2-1-1 record in those games, 4-2-1 overall.

Guerrieri said that he is excited to play some games in College Station.

"We're hoping that folks will stick around from the Baylor (football) game," Guerrieri said. "We're ranked as high as No. 10 and we have done all of this on the road. We are hoping to unveil this team at home."

The Aggie's first game was Sept. 17 at the Aggie Soccer Complex against Tulane. Baylor forced home games with Samford and No. 1 North Carolina to be canceled, as games against No. 7 Stanford and No. 6 California were moved to San Marcos. The home game against No. 10 Mexico was canceled after a recent terrorist attack.

Tonight's game against Houston will start at 7 p.m. at the Aggie Soccer Complex. The Baylor game will start at the same time on Sunday.
