Man shoots self son, former wife

HIGHLAND PARK, Texas (AP) — Three people were killed and one was wounded Wednesday night in a shooting involving a divorced couple, police said.

Detective L.R. Millican said a man killed his ex-wife, their 8-year-old son and fatally wounded himself. The man also shot and wounded their 14-year-old son as the teen-ager tried to escape.

Millican said police have no motive, but friends say the woman had recently hired an attorney to try to collect on late child support payments.

Millican said the man, who was from St. Louis, had arranged to have dinner with his sons. The detective detailed a scenario where the man arrived at the home, rang the doorbell and was greeted by the boys.

He said the man shot the woman in the head and chased their 14-year-old son out toward the street, shooting at him three times. The teen-ager was shot twice in the back as he tried to escape.

The man then returned to the house and shot his 8-year-old son in the head and then himself in the head, Millican said.

A 9 mm semi-automatic handgun was found in the house and seven shell casings were found at the scene. The man's car was found about a block away, the detective said.

The 8-year-old and the man were in his early 40s, died at area hospitals. The 14-year-old was treated at Baylor University Medical Center. Family members requested hospital release no information on condition until other relatives were notified.

The names of those involved were being withheld pending notification of relatives.
