70,000 shirts in less than a week before the game. The group has since sold 10,000 shirts through orders. The group has more than 7,000 shirts. Texas A&M Bookstore sold proceeds from its red, white and blue shirts, totaling $10,000.

Betha said she expected to hand over two checks next week, each for $100,000.

The Baytown club hopes to provide the funds for the students' airfare for the students' airfare hotel stay in New York City, but it turned out to be unnecessary. Evans called Continental Airlines to make arrangements, he explained that he donated hotel rooms for students.

The club will give $100,000 to each of the students to provide the funds for the students' airfare.

"What these kids do something students, Karen Mc students and all American Clerks can be proud of, and it is indicative of the young people we have at A&M," Evans said.

In addition to the presentation, the students also join the New York A&M Club Saturday to watch the Aggies play the University of Oklahoma. University officials are still trying to visit the site of the attack, interviews and as various tourist sites, including the clerk's office at the stadium.

"I'm a finance major and would definitely be interested in seeing Wall Street in the county," Betha said.

Luton said the firefighters and policeman relief were chosen because they are Out organizers wanted to help the widows and children of those who died while doing their job.

"They ran to the site away from it, and they risked their lives trying to help others," Luton said.

Personally presenting the checks to the beneficiaries will be a rewarding contribution to the weeks-long fundraising effort, Betha said.

"Instead of just making another check, we can make more of a personalized statement on it by presenting it on behalf of the entire Aggie community," Betha said.

Kansas governor plans to head trucking group

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Ending speculation that he might step down early, Gov. Bill Graves said Tuesday that he plans to head a national trucking industry group after his term ends in 2003.

He said he never intended to leave before the conclusion of his second four-year term. Some had suggested he might resign, allowing Lt. Gov. Gary Sherrer, a fellow Republican, to move into the governor's office and get a head start on his own gubernatorial campaign.

His father built a trucking company into the largest in Kansas. After the family sold the business in 1979, Graves went to work in the secretary of state's office, and then won election as secretary of state in 1986. He served two terms before being elected governor in 1994.
