WELL, I FINALLY CALLED MINA AND ASKED HER WHY SHE STOOD ME UP ON VALENTINE'S DAY.

SHE SAYS THAT VALENTINE'S DAY IS DUMB BECAUSE TWO PEOPLE SHOULDN'T NEED A SPECIAL DAY TO SHOW THEIR FEELINGS FOR ONE ANOTHER.

SHE SAYS I SHOULD BUY HER FLOWERS AND CANDY EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR.

OH, THAT'S MUCH BETTER.

graduate political science student at West Texas A&M University.

"We as a board, or even as an individual CSAB member, can bring issues to the chancellor that we feel need to be brought to his/her attention," Burgess said. "This is usually done through teleconferences or face-to-face meetings throughout the year."

Houser said the CSAB meets with the chancellor once or twice an academic year.

"We have a two-way dialogue with the chancellor," Houser said. "He fills in students on the system as a whole and we give him feedback on how his decisions affect the students at the University. We also inform him about activities on campus."

Houser said Chancellor Howard Graves had contacted the CSAB to discuss several issues this year, including facilities on campus, research scholars and the selection of a new University president.

The CSAB goes to Austin every other year when the legislature is in session and during the off-year they travel to Washington D.C. to meet with

"We want to let students know that this is a University event and is not only for international students," he said.

President Dr. Ray M. Bowen. This invitation-only event will include University officials, student leaders and other guests to discuss international issues.

The week-long cultural celebration will end Friday, when student groups will present their cultures through entertainment Friday evening at the international talent show and parade from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Rudder Auditorium.

The talent show will be judged by professors and other community members, and awards will be presented at the party following the talent show. The location for the party was announced this week.

The International Student Association includes all international cultural clubs, such as the European Student Association and the African Student Association, said Chitale.

Each year, 3,000 to 4,000 students attend the various events of International Week, Chitale said. This year, he is expecting a turnout and hopes to see more American students and community members at the festivities.

"We want all students to start feeling together; it's the best we can hope for," he said.

University Libraries Poor Yorick's Trivia Contest

Question of the week: Herodotus originally used it to refer to gigantic Egyptian statues. But it later became associated with one particular one: a 100-foot-tall bronze representation of the god Apollo.

What's this word that names one of the 7 Wonders of the Ancient World?

Instructions: Entry forms are available at the Circulation Desks in Evans Annex, WCL, and PSEL. One winner will be drawn from all correct entries submitted by 5 p.m. on Wednesday. Winner will receive a Poor Yorick's coffee mug.
