but stayed in for his at bats in the second and third innings. Johnson said Wong will get X-rayed on Wednesday and will be evaluated then.

The lead was all the Aggie pitchers needed after their shaky start.

Junior Todd Deininger settled down after the first two innings, but lasted only three innings, giving up three runs on four hits.

Sophomore Brian Finch, freshman Logan Kensing and sophomore Robert Ramsey finished up the last six innings, giving up only two runs on five hits.

The Aggies return to Big 12 Conference play this weekend as they travel to Lawrence, Kan., to face the Kansas Jayhawks in a three-game series.

up I was going to lose the match," Terburgh said. "I don't like to lose and I really wanted to win this match. I don't get the opportunity to play No. 1 very often, and when I do, I want to play my best and get the win.

"You always have to be focused when you play at No. 1 because there are no bad [players] on the No. 1 court."

Senior Olivia Karlikova played at No. 2 in both matches, the highest she has played this season. Karlikova knocked off SFA's Christine Hunyh, 6-1, 6-1, and completed the evening by beating ACU's Lucy Johnson, 6-3, 6-3.

Karlikova, who played much of last season at No. 1 and No. 2 for the Aggies, has struggled with nagging injuries and illness this season. However, as she proved this weekend against Arizona and again on Tuesday night, she feels quite comfortable on the top courts.

"That's where I am used to playing," Karlikova said. "It felt nice to be back at No. 2."

Kleinecke said Karlikova has improved and expects her to play an increased role in the Aggies upcoming matches.

"Olivia is back," Kleinecke said. "She is working hard in her points and playing a lot smarter."

The Aggies will travel to Lincoln, Neb., this weekend to face the Cornhuskers on Saturday. A&M's next home match is Sunday, March 17, against Miami (Fla.) at the Varsity Tennis Center.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Aggies bow out of Big 12 tournament

The Texas A&M women's basketball team lost in the first round of the Big 12 Conference Tournament to Oklahoma State University on Tuesday, 92-76.

The Aggies (13-16, 5-12) finished their most productive season since joining the Big 12 and earned the most total wins since the 1996 season when they won 20 games.

The Cowgirls were paced by Tari Cummings' 17 points and had six players score in double figures.

Oklahoma State outscored the Aggies 28-8 in the final 6:27 of the first half to take a 55-38 lead at halftime.

In the second half, an A&M comeback cut OSU's lead to six points with 3:35 remaining. The Cowgirls then went on a 13-0 run to give them their biggest lead of the contest.

Junior Kim Moore scored a career-high 26 points in the contest and sophomore Tocarra Williams added 19 points and nine assists. Williams leads the Big 12 and is 14th in the nation in assists this season.

Men's tennis on the road to play LSU

The No. 24 Texas A&M men's tennis team will continue its season with a visit to the No. 15 Louisiana State University Tigers (3-3) on Wednesday at 4 p.m.

The match follows a sweep over the weekend of Abilene Christian University and Boise State University that improved the Aggies' spring season record to 8-2.

Sophomore Khaled El Dory will be looking for his eighth consecutive singles victory and freshman Ante Matijevic looks to improve his record to 8-1 so far this season.
