Ben Kweller
Sha Sha
ATO Records
Blend Weezer-like vocals with a folk pop/rock vibe and you have the product of a young man named Ben Kweller.
After his departure from the grunge band Radish, Kweller took a solo route, which has proven successful. With Kweller's second full-length album, Sha Sha, he has captured a sound to call his own.
Hailing from Greenville, Texas, and currently a resident of New York, Kweller lays down all the vocals on Sha Sha, and provides his talents on guitar and keyboard.
With a sing-a-long vibe, the majority of Sha Sha is upbeat and quirky. In the song "Family Tree," Kweller does an amazing job harmonizing with himself and provides a beautiful track. The upbeat tune "Wasted & Ready" has great electric guitar riffs with a steady beat that flows in and out and keeps it interesting.
Kweller's instrumental capabilities do not go unnoticed. At the ripe age of 20, Kweller's lyrics are that of a person who has experienced life from all angles. Kweller sings of profound and thoughtful subjects from an aspect that takes time to digest. From a relationship that has taken a toll on his self-esteem in the song "Walk On Me" to the song "In Other Words," where Kweller sings about beautiful things in life that others may not find beautiful, Kweller has dug deep to provide this album with great songwriting.
Take Kweller and his album Sha Sha for what it's worth: a young man with talent beyond his years. (Grade: A)
