John Wayne

of his family, Schulz continued with his blossoming music career, but after a few years the family realized that a sacrifice had to be made.

"In sixth grade we just decided it was best if I home schooled," Schulz said. "Being on the road is a lot of fun, but it's a lot of work, too. I have spare time to do schoolwork during the week when I don't have gigs. But I'm definitely going back to school for high school, because I don't want to miss those years."

While Schulz is busy doing schoolwork, his mom, Vicky, arranges performances and manages his schedule. Vicky plays a pivotal role in getting Schulz's name out to the public, but having a name identical to a celebrity does not hurt.

"When people find out my name is John Wayne, they always ask if I was named after the movie star," Schulz said.

"Sometimes they think that it is just a stage name, but I have one uncle named John and another named Wayne, so I sometimes say I was named after them. But my dad really is a John Wayne fan."

With the help of his familiar name, talent and his family's support, Schulz has made it across the country, from Texas and Nevada to Kansas and Louisiana. No matter where he goes, Schulz's goal is the same — promoting his album, Ropin' Dreams. The 10 track LP, produced by Texas company BSW Records, was made with the help of several professional artists, including Asleep at the Wheel pianist Chris Gage and the drummer for Jerry Jeff Walker, Freddie Krc. While other artists provided the majority of the lyrics for the CD, Schulz said he planned on doing some of his own songwriting for his next album.

But Schulz said he does not plan on working on another album until he finishes touring and promoting Ropin' Dreams, a debut that has caught the attention of Willie Nelson, Alan Jackson and the Grammys. What most people do not realize, Schulz said, is that there is more to the Grammys than what is shown on television.

"Many people think that the only songs and artists nominated are those in the top five," Schulz said. "But there are a lot of people nominated, and I got picked for Best Country Vocal Performer for [my song] 'Rockin' Horse.'"

Schulz has not let seven Grammy nominations get his head. He is still a teenager, like a teenager, he said he has to do things people his age do. He also has not had time to do things people his age do. He also has not had time to do things people his age do. He also has not had time to do things people his age do.
