NATION

THE BATTALION

Medal of Honor recipients gather on 9/11 Returning th

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) - The meeting was scheduled more than two years ago, but the date — Sept. 11 — could not have been more appropriate or poignant for a gathering of the nation's Medal of Honor recipients.

Speakers and veterans at the annual convention of the Congressional Medal of Honor Society praised rescue workers on the anniversary of the terrorist attacks, saying they were even prouder to be American.

"Everybody's got a hero inside them," said Vietnam veteran and medal recipient John Baker, 57, of Columbia, S.C. "It's just a matter of where they are at the time." Nearly 90 Medal of Honor Rock, Ark.

recipients, from wars dating back to World War II, attended the convention at Barksdale Air Force Base.

"This year we feel a little taller, a little prouder. We know we stood up after 9-11 and by standing up we were saying, 'America's alive and well,' said Nick Bacon, 56, of Little Bacon earned his medal in Vietnam — in the battle of Tam Ky — by driving, alone and in the face of machine gun fire, behind enemy lines, taking out enemy positions with grenades, signaling other positions to American gunners behind him, and pulling wounded Americans from the battlefield.

grey wolves t the wildernes

BEAVERHEAD, N.M. (AP) Mike Miller watched from a rocky bluff as the female went down. The dart pierced her hip, its sedative seeping into her bloodstream. A half-hour later, after a pursuit along the canyon wall, he saw the gunner clip the male in the neck.

The cowboy felt a rush of elation.

He had ridden out to Railroad Canyon in the thick of the Gila National Forest to watch as the feds swept down in their helicopter and scooped up the Pipestem wolves, named for a mountain near the spot where they were first set

He had come to celebrate one small victory in his and his war against "el lobo" sworn enemy of the cattle rancher for as they're not scared. long as there have been ranches in the West. He had.

unabashedly, come to gloat. When the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service first proposed reintroducing the Mexican gray wolf to the wilderness that connects Arizona and New Mexico, ranchers warned: Wolves and people cannot coexist, and wolves and cattle are a lethal combination.

This pair alone, Miller believes, killed 19 calves on the outfit he manages, although federal officials confirmed only two deaths. Some calves were too far gone to say for certain whether a wolf was the culprit.

They had come within a stone's throw of his home and his kids, terrifying his wife.

"I can handle the bears and the mountain lions and the bob-cats," Debbie Miller says. "When you see them, they take off. They're scared of you. These wolves, they're not scared. And that's what scares

So on a quiet spring ma after months of pursue marauding predators, t with the federal wildlife arrived to return them

"I was glad it was doe Mike Miller recalls, althout relief was short-lived. This summer, a mo the Pipestem pair removed, nine mo were released in the will

Thursday, September

straddling the Ari Mexico border. At wolves now roam the studded woods. unknown number have born in the wild. Other be freed down the road

Sooner or later, this knows, "el lobo" will be It is considered the the imperiled species.

got a patient that's d

you want to save their

do everything you ca

then you wheel in t

Wildlife reintroduc

become an integral put of

and restore en

California condor wo

ly have vanished

Western skies, the black

ed ferret disappeared fo

species. Without it,

patient."

'It's emergency

These wolves,

And that's what scares me.

chance z national statist vival and The Aggies times, the in the Big 12 a When ally in total of restoration only 21.5 yard A&M has won't strong in stop their first two there are s The fron the Aggies at N that the at stopping the - Debbie Miller are slim the nation, allo per game and Cowboy's Wife lishing down on the gi popula

Aggie Defei

The Texas

top of Crew" defense

The Wreck No. 2 in the n wild margin with a the lifesaving solu gin. The secon many of the nation's huge factor in turnovers, pic best, seven ment," says Ed Bang their first two oversees restoration freshman sta gray wolf to the Appel leads Rocky Mountains. three intercept Big 12 Schoo Conference planning remen one-year anniv soccer and voll the coming wea country's efforts to pol spirit of patrioti vade the leas regional setting plans include (

Some of the 13 New York for the Saturd USC. Two ot

Family of rapper Volle Notorious B.I.G

prairies.

releases document

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The family of rapper Notorious B.I.G. has released documents and an audiotape that they say prove he was in a New York recording studio the night rival Tupac Shakur was shot in Las Vegas.

The Los Angeles Times reported last week that Notorious B.I.G., whose real name was Christopher Wallace, was in Las Vegas the night Shakur was gunned down, and that he provided a Compton gang member with the murder weapon and promised to pay the gang $1 million for the assassination.

The Times reported Wednesday that lawyers for Wallace's estate gave paperwork to MTV News in New York that placed Wallace at a studio the night of Sept. 7, 1996 - the same period when Shakur was shot. The rapper died six days later at 25.

A person who saw the documents said they suggest Wallace reserved the New York recording studio from 12:30 p.m. Sept. 1996, until 4 a.m. the next day, the Times reported.

The family of Orlando Anderson, whom the Times identified as the gang member who shot Shakur, also issued a statement Tuesday denying Anderson played a role in the killing.

"Orlando Anderson did not murder Mr. Tupac Shakur," the statement said. "He did not accept money nor was he offered any money from Notorious B.I.G., nor anyone else, to perform such a heinous crime.'

The family denied that

Anderson was a member Southside Crips street Anderson died in May after a drug-related shooting Compton car wash.

Lawyers and other rep tatives of the Wallace declined requests from then paper to review the invol

The studio records, whi widely used in the musici try to bill artists for stud show Wallace was rec Daddy's House, which Sea Diddy" Combs owns.

The invoices indicate Combs, then known as Daddy," and another p were at the studio, along few engineers. Combs de to be interviewed by the no paper. Wallace was 24 when shot to death in Los Ange months after Shakur's s Police have made no arr either killing.

Wallace's family also is a statement in which the per's former manager, Barrow, said he was Wallace in the studio the w end Shakur was shot. "No way was he Vegas," Barrow said 1 statement. Wallace family lawye gave MTV News a digit of a song called "Nasty which they say Wallace ed the night Shakur was s

In a two-part series last the Times published fin from its yearlong invest into Shakur's death and police handling of the case.

xas A&M sopho She is joined by