Howdy! We are privileged to announce our candidacy for the Class of 2003 Class Agents. During the past four years, we have contributed to our class and enhanced Aggie life from all angles. Our commitment and dedication to the Class of 2003 is evident through our active participation in campus life. These four years have inspired us to continue service to the Class of 2003 former students. We value each member of our class and feel it is important to maintain the camaraderie established as undergraduates throughout our lives. If you, our class agents, promote the traditions that make our University unique. By keeping our class connected to one another and to campus life, we can strengthen the Class of 2003's bonds to the University years to come.

Howdy Fightin' Texas Class of 2003. Together as a team we wish to serve you as your class agents. With the three of us working together, you can be assured that we will succeed in serving you, representing you and listening to you, the Class of 2003. We believe the bond Aggies share is what truly makes Texas A&M University school we are all so proud of. As class agents it is our duty to keep this bond from ever being broken. The three of us have been bound together by friendship, organizations or titles, for the past four years and this is why we represent you. We know it is the Aggie bond that sets our university apart from the rest. We all agree and joined the best. We are Aggies, the Aggies are us. We're here to represent the Class of 2003.

The opportunity to represent the Class of 2003 as class agents is amazing, with the potential to be unforgettable. Our class has seen many things since stepping on campus, and we want to be the ones who make sure everyone is informed of the happenings of the future. The challenges of being Class Agents are difficult, but with all the aspects of the University that we have been collectively a part of, it will not be hard to reach everyone. Our strong friendship and business-like manner that we bring to the office of Class Agent is one that will keep the Aggie Spirit strong as well as build it for the future.
