EA Sports to film Aggie game for NCAA 2004 video game

By Dallas Shipp
THE BATTALION

This year's NCAA 2004 football game might have a little taste of Aggieland that it has not had in the past.

EA Sports will be filming Texas A&M football fans at the Zone Plaza at Kyle Field from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday for a chance to be on this year's NCAA 2004 video game. When users start up the game, the group that is chosen by EA Sports will be seen yelling "EA Sports... It's in the game!"

NCAA Football is EA Sports' highest-selling game and is extremely popular with the 15-22 year old bracket, an age group that is an important target for recruiting students and athletes to attend A&M.

"This is a great opportunity for A&M to get more exposure around the nation," said EA Sports campus intern Matt Crofts, who organized the trip to A&M for EA Sports.

Crofts said that he convinced his bosses to film at A&M this year due to the hype surrounding new A&M Head Coach Dennis Frasca and the improved play of A&M basketball as well.

"We've created a lot of buzz recently and EA Sports is hoping to capture that on Saturday," Crofts said.

EA Sports has filmed this same game at Ohio State, UCLA, Michigan and Kansas their various collegiate video games.

Sophomore industrial distribution major Luke Boyea said NCAA Football has been one of the best games out there and he plans to be there on Saturday for the opportunity at Kyle Field.

"NCAA 2003 is the most fun sports game I've ever played," Boyea said. "It's exciting that we have a chance to be a part of the new game at A&M. I want to get NCAA 2004 and see if I made it."

Attendees are encouraged to dress for a normal football game with "Maroon Out" hats, overalls, 12th Man Towels and other football paraphernalia.

Fans will be able to see if they are on the list when NCAA 2004 hits store shelves in Aggie

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Ripa lends her name to county college's fund-raising efforts

BLACKWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Kelly Ripa is lending her name to fund-raising efforts by Camden County College, the school she attended before pursuing a career in acting and television.

A letter from Ripa, co-host of the syndicated "Live With Regis & Kelly," is included in the school's fund-raising materials. Her father, Joseph, who lives in nearby Berlin, N.J., is on the school's board of trustees.

"As someone familiar with Camden County College, you know firsthand how it has changed lives through education," the letter says. "Hundreds of thousands of individuals — friends, neighbors, family and co-workers — have benefited from the many opportunities that Camden County College provides."

Ripa, 32, gave birth last month to her third child, Joaquin Consuelos. She and her husband, actor Mark Consuelos, also have a 5-year-old son, Michael, and a 1-year-old daughter, Lola. They co-starred on ABC's "All My Children."

Ripa plans to return to "Live" at the beginning of May.

Andrich, 29, will sell signed photographs of herself, with the proceeds going to several local charities, officials said.

Missing girl found nearly four years after disappearance

RED SPRINGS, N.C. (AP) — A girl who vanished at age 11 and recently turned up in Mexico — now 15 years old, and with two children — says she left home with an adult neighbor after becoming pregnant by him and was then kept as a virtual captive.

Before Dana Pevia came home to Raeford, N.C., this week, her family had not seen her since she walked to the school bus just after 6 a.m. on June 4, 1999. They thought she had been kidnapped, possibly killed.

But since coming home Wednesday to a tearful reunion with her mother, Dana has told authorities that she left with her neighbor, Hector Majarro Frausto, now 22.

She had been involved with Frausto, and shortly before she disappeared she told him she had been getting sick every morning, Hoke County Sheriff Hubert Peterkin said Thursday.

Frausto, suspecting Dana was pregnant, arranged for them to travel to his family home in Mexico, Peterkin said.

"She went along with the situation and realized it was a problem once she was on a plane to Mexico," Peterkin said after interviewing the girl.

When she disappeared, Dana was just short of her 12th birthday. She was attending sixth grade at West Middle School.

That was the last her mother, Wanda Pevia, knew until this month, when Dana showed up at the U.S. Consulate General office in Cuadajajara, Mexico. Officials contacted the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, which contacted Hoke County sheriff's office.

On Wednesday night, Pevia was finally reunited with her daughter — and her two grandchildren — at the Raleigh-Durham International Airport. "Oh, my god, my baby," Pevia said, embracing her daughter. "I took four hours to get here, but on Wednesday, I surrendered their season. After point with the help of Jessica Roland at the No. 28 Aggie fell to No. 44 Ba-

After a couple of years, Peterkin said she befriended a local worker who eventually took her away from Frausto's family and brought her to live with his mother, Peterkin said.

He said Dana tried to contact her mother and grandmother but they had changed their phone numbers. Ultimately, the new family took her to the consulate's office.

Police confirmed that Frausto is the father of 3-year-old Sara, Dana's oldest child. They did not say who is the father of month-old Francisco.

Warrants have been issued charging Frausto with kidnapping and statutory rape. Police believe Frausto is in the United States.

"There's no doubt in my mind that Hector knows we're looking for him," Peterkin said.
