Odes

Burnet H

State Ch

that didi

quarterba

has verb

despite c

expects to and expe

a chance Franchio said.

opportun

Fran an incredibl

downs fo

at halftin

second h

win the g

the team

onship ga

weeks pri

Cu

SAND

anyone k

British Op

never crac

396 in the longshot v

first reacti on the spo St. George

"They

Permia

McGe

Origin R.C. Sloc

"Ther

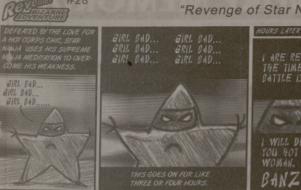

McGe

Full Moon

by R.DeLuna Morrow releases new album

WATCH "ANIMAL HOUSE"? BECAUSE VERY FIRST HUMAN G-MUMMY! NO. "SAVED BY THE BELL: THE COLLEGE RESEARCHING COLLEGE PARTY! HE'S SURE I HUMAN COLLEGE ADAPTED QUICK YEARS". JUST KEEP THAT BEHAVIOR THE WAYS STOP CALLING "PREPPY" !

Kyle Maxwell, a senior political science major,

"(Bonfire) is one of those things that you just said he went to the ceremony to support the Kerlee family, whose son Tim died in the collapse.

kind of have to experience, kind of like the Aggie family in general," he said. "But I'll try to tell people about it as much as I can and get them to understand. But I think it's one of those things that Bonfire they know they won't truly understand."

Kyle Warner, a senior construction science major, said he and Bonfire victim Lucas Kimmel swam together in high school, and he was persuaded by Kimmel to come to A&M.

I CANNOT HELP ME!

"I'm here and I'm wearing senior boots for the first time, which is something he never got to do," he said. "It makes me feel good knowing that he, in some way, got to do it, hopefully. As much as I hated it to happen, I'm just glad that nobody has forgotten anything. They embody what A&M is

Continued from page 1

Continued from page 1

May said.

Lynch

Dustin Williams, a senior biomedical sciences major, is receiving his certification as an Emergency Medical Technician participate in Rescue Day at the TEEX facilities Aug. 2.

"We are lucky to have such an amazing resource to help with our training," he said.

Continued from page 1

than 6,000 people, where everyone seems to know at least a Lynch cousin or aunt and where some ways," said Jim Bostic, 46, of Spencer.

'We're 50 years behind the times, but in a

Charlene Curfman's Palestine home burned down 27 years ago while she was pregnant, but within two days, neighbors in the unincorporated town of about 300 had given her and her

"It's not just one person, it's everyone," said

Some locals say the efforts to help Lynch,

'We've all shared the lows of her disappear-

Curfman, 53, a beauty salon owner. "People will help each other and never expect repay-including the rebuilding of her house to accommodate the wheelchair she still needs, have ance to the highs of her rescue," said Greg

Thorn, 44, who with his brother inherited

Dick's Market from their father. "I think it's Lynch's convoy was ambushed near the Iraqi city of Nasiriyah after it made a wrong turn.

Eleven soldiers from the convoy were killed;

five others were captured and held apart from

Maintenance Company, was injured after her

Humvee utility vehicle was hit by a rocket-propelled grenade and crashed into another vehicle in the convoy. U.S. forces recovered Lynch at an Iraqi hospital in Nasiriyah April 1.

Lynch, a supply clerk in the 507th

Lynch for three weeks before their release.

made a close-knit community even more so.'

husband everything they needed.

united the county as never before.

"This is almost like an Amish community in folks routinely rally for neighbors in need.

a facility such as this allows students like us to gain extra skills that others might not, which in oil and gas reserves, Dugan turn helps us to better serve people in need.

In addition to these two grants, Hutchison announced that the A&M Offshore Technology Research Center will receive $1.4 million from the Department of Interiors Appropriations Bill.

These funds will be used to University.

"Having even limited access to help the program as it tries to uncover more efficient ways of locating and using underwater

> The University will receive these grants in addition to $8 million dollars it was awarded last month for terrorism research. That money, requested by Rep. John Carter, will go to fund joint projects with The University of Texas and Rice

Death

Continued from page 1

their love and support.

Marilyn said even friends and teachers from elementary school came to pay their

The Snells' neighbors and Leslie's boss from the Brazos Valley Christian Bookstore returned from vacations to attend the funeral.

Marilyn said Leslie's infectious smile and blazing red hair were her trademarks. She said everyone always loved her smile.

ed in many organizations such as Key club, played sports and enjoyed running. Jim said her favorite pastime was working with the Christian organization Young Life.

"She had just become a freshman leader and was greatly looking forward to that," he

Courtney said Leslie really enjoyed taking pictures and working on her high school

"She had even applied to work for the A&M yearbook, the 'Aggieland,'" Courtney

Julie Pye, Leslie's pre-calculus teacher at A&M Consolidated, said Leslie was a great

"I adored her for her intelligence, spunk and cheeriness. She will not be forgotten," she said

A scholarship fund has been set up in Leslie's memory and will be given to a student from the College Station area who will attend A&M. Leslie will be honored at Silver Taps on Sept. 9.

Premieres at College Station Hastings tonigh

By Dallas Shipp THE BATTALION

After months of delays caused by folding distribution companies and various scheduled release dates, Texas Country recording artist Cory Morrow is finally premiering his new album tonight in College Station.

"It's about time," Morrow said. "I can't tell you how fired up I am. I want everyone to see this DVD and listen to these songs. We've had it finished for damn near a year and it's just about time.

Morrow will release the new album, "Full Exposure," at midnight tonight at the College Station Hastings store as he has with two of his previous albums. Morrow said he likes releasing his albums here, because he feels so close to the fans. "The crowds that cheer and make a lot of noise between songs is most rewarding for us," he said. "The Aggies have always been like that and you just feel like you are at home with your friends. They're the craziest, rowdiest, most loyal fans around."

Hastings Store Manager Edward Whitfill said he enjoys hosting Morrow and that he expects a large crowd.

"I would easily expect 300 to 400 people," he said. "If this were Sept. 22 instead of July 22, I think it might be bigger. We've had as many as 600 people here for Pat (Green) and Cory com-

The album was supposed to be released last November but was delayed when the original distributing company declared bankruptcy.

"Unfortunately, it is the music business instead of just the music, so you have to deal with all of this," Morrow said.

Despite the extra waiting period, sophomore journalism major Courtney Potter said she is excited to finally get the

"I was disappointed when it didn't come out on its original

Cory Morrow's album "Full Exposure" will be released at m night tonight. This is the third album released in College Station release date, because I had really been looking forward to the new live album," Potter said. "I can't wait to watch the DVD."

Morrow's personal touch with his fans and his laid-back approach is what Potter said makes his music so much fun.

"Some performers aren't as energized as Cory," she said. "It doesn't matter where he is or how big the concert is, he always has the same energy, he's just like a big kid. I really like the way he hangs out with the crowd before and after the show like he's just one of us.

The new album includes three new tracks, including his new single "21 Days," and a live concert that was recorded last July 4 at "Willie's Day Off" in Austin.

The concert in Austin and behind-the-scenes footage are included on a two-hour DVD that is free with the album. Morrow said he wanted to make a DVD, but didn't want to make fans pay $25 for it, so he decided to make one and include it for

There is an awful

Baghdad police leader

lot of enthusiasm in Iraq to have people

armed and serving with us.

free with the new CD.

"It's going to be a lot of for the fans because they an there," Morrow said. "Alor people are going to say that's me!"

One scene captured off includes a trip that Morrowa his band took to Cuba last to entertain U.S. troops tioned in Guantanamo Ba trip Morrow said he'll i

"It was absolutely amaz he said. "We got to talk to guys and they told us how! ly they had been. The capta the Marines hadn't seen his in 12 months. I couldn't un stand how they keep their together, but they've made choice to sacrifice for the Morrow will play a acoustic concert for fans to before the album officially on sale at midnight.

"It will just be me, m start selling and signi Morrow said.

Iraq

Continued from page 1

declared major combat over.

Abizaid was joined at the lunch by Paul Wolfowitz, the deputy secretary of defense, who has made a point of insisting that the attackers not

He says they should be called "forces of reaction" whose sole aim is to restore Saddam to power and thereby regain the positions of privilege and power they enjoyed in the old regime. At one point, Wolfowitz referred to Saddam's Baath Party loyalists as sadists.

Wolfowitz is touring Iraq to assess progress on the military, economic and political fronts, amid anxiety among some in Congress that the Bush administration is taking the wrong approach and should be doing more to get more coalition partners involved.

On his fourth day in Iraq, Wolfowitz also visited a Baghdad police academy where Bernard Kerik, the former New York City police commissioner who is overseeing the effort to create new Iraqi police forces, showed him a nearby prison where inmates were said to have been brutalized. Kerik said the FBI is beginning an investigation at the site, where dirt mounds and witness reports indicate many women prisoners may have been buried.

At the academy, U.S. troops are train police recruits, including some from the poli force that served under Saddam.

Wolfowitz also met Ahmid K. Ibrahim Kerik said is a candidate to be named Bagho police chief or its chief of operations. Ibrah 53, told Wolfowitz that under the Sadd regime he was jailed for a year and torture having denounced Saddam privately to a frier

In describing to Wolfowitt sources of trouble in Baghd Kerik — like Abizaid — used term "resistance." Wolfow immediately corrected him. resistance.' Forces of reaction

Whatever they may be call Abizaid said in the interview he will quickly establish e battalions of armed Iraqi mil — Ahmid K. Ibrahim men, each with about 850 m They will be trained by conv tional U.S. forces — a job usu ly handled by American spec operations forces — and he si

he expects them to be ready to begin operation within 45 days. 'There is an awful lot of enthusiasm in la to have people armed and serving with because they want to defend their country, said. Earlier this month, Abizaid replaced 6 Tommy Franks as head of Central Comma Franks is retiring from the Army.

Pick Your Favorites

Broadway Series Sponsored by: CentralTexasENT

Good News! Tickets to all shows on the 2003-2004 season of MSC OPAS are on sale now! To assure yourself of the very best seats to the very best shows, order your tickets to any of the performances on the Main Stage, Intimate Gatherings and OPAS JR seasons.

THREE MO'TENORS | September 20 RIGOLETTO | October 2 THE SOUND OF MUSIC | October 8-9 BOWFIRE | November 14 ATUNA CHRISTMAS | November 19-21 MANCINI AT THE MOVIES | January 21 CATS | January 27-28 CINDERELLA | February 7-8 MOSCOW STATE RADIO SYMPHONY

ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS | February 25

FAME - the musical | March 9-10

enlighten entertain inspire buy tickets, be inspired adway Shows for Only $133! ORDERTICKETS NOW at www.MSCOPAS.org or request a free brochure by calling 845-1234

THE BATTALION