

Tired of this guy?

So are we...

And that's why we joined Pi Kappa Phi. We are scholars, leaders, gentlemen, and athletes.

In short, we do not fulfill the typical "frat guy" stereotype. We are building better men, and most importantly, we are recruiting the leaders of tomorrow.

If you'd like to join us, look for us at Open House or contact one of our rush chairmen.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Armstrong, wife plan to divorce

AUSTIN(AP) — Five-time Tour de France champion Lance Armstrong and his wife have separated and are planning to divorce, according to a published report.

Armstrong and wife Kristin separated two weeks ago, soon after they moved back to Austin from their European home in Girona, Spain, according to a story published in Thursday editions of the Austin American-Statesman.

The couple currently maintains separate homes in Central Austin, the newspaper reported. "It's an unfortunate situation," Kristin Armstrong, 32, told the Statesman. "We are making the best of it for the sake of our kids."

The Armstrongs have been married for five years and separated in late January. The 31-year-old cyclist, who grabbed his record-tying fifth straight victory in cycling's most prestigious race this summer, later agreed to enter counseling in an effort to salvage their marriage.

Armstrong's wife and children — 3-year-old Luke and 22-month-old twins Isabella and Grace — were with the cyclist in Paris on July 27 to celebrate his Tour victory. The left Paris together and spent time on a family vacation before returning to Austin last month.

"We both have (legal) representation, and we're doing peacefully," the cyclist said Wednesday. "The crazy thing is, we're closer now as better friends than ever before. We're truly committed to maintaining a good relationship, not a marriage."
