COUCH POTATOES

"The OC"
FOX Tuesday 8p.m.
Starring Peter Gallagher & Benjamin McKenzie

Those tuned in to FOX this summer couldn't escape it: the colorful commercials full of brazen and half-nude characters for the new Fox drama "The OC." Contrary to what the advertisements may suggest, anybody tuning in for the sake of eye candy has another thing coming.

The hyped-up series centers around the struggles of a young man when life unexpectedly throws him into high society. The show begins with Ryan (McKenzie), a misunderstood rebel who was in the midst of leading a day-to-day existence with his alcoholic mother and her abusive boyfriend. When he is placed in juvenile detention for helping his brother steal a car, Ryan finds that Sandy Cohen (Gallagher), the attorney ordered to defend him is a softhearted man who offers to help Ryan out of his dismal situation. Finding no other way out of his struggle for survival, Ryan accepts Cohen's generous offer to come live with him.

Upon entering Sandy's rich and debonair world of Orange County, Ryan meets Mrs. Cohen, the sassy, yet skeptical leader of the Cohen household; her son (Adam Brody) who is an awkward social outcast; and the literal girl-next-door Marissa (Barton).

What follows is a series of keg parties, fist-fights and shots of exotic mansions in an attempt to glamorize the viewers with life in the stylish Orange County. As the show plays on and the characters get familiar with each other, their relationships draw the viewers in and give us a closer look at the cast's troubled lives.

The show has too many links between each character, creating a soap-opera type feel. Despite this drawback, "The OC" has an air of quality due to the chemistry between the cast members. The humanity the series emanates has the potential to put a smile on your face.

Ventura and family buy new lakeside estate in Minnesota

DELLWOOD, Minn. (AP) — Former Minnesota Gov. Jesse Ventura and his family have moved into a $1.9 million lakeside estate in one of Minnesota's wealthiest communities.

Real estate agent Karla Blomberg said the Venturas bought a 10-year-old house on the shore of White Bear Lake featuring five bedrooms, eight bathrooms, an exercise room, hot tub, home theater and six-car garage.

"They're very pleased with how they have fit into the area," said Blomberg, who helped the family with their search and disclosed the sale price. "People have treated them well and have been kind, without bothering them."

According to the real estate listing, the Venturas' new home has 8,212 finished square feet and about 1,000 feet of shoreline. Dellwood is about 20 miles north of Minneapolis.

Rap mogul Master P's brother goes to trial on murder

GRETNNA, La. (AP) — The brother of rap mogul Master P faces trial Monday in the shooting of a 16-year-old nightclub patron.

Corey Miller, 30 — a rapper who goes by the name C-Murder — was indicted in March in the slaying of Steve Thomas, who was killed after an argument at the Platinum Club on Jan. 12.

Authorities said Miller, the younger brother of rapper Percy Miller, was out on bail on an attempted murder charge in a separate case when he allegedly shot Thomas in the chest.

Corey Miller denied involvement in the shooting.

His lawyer, Ronald Rakosky, said the Louisiana Supreme Court was scheduled to hear arguments Monday in a related case in which the rapper is accused of bribing two Jefferson Parish sheriff's deputies to smuggle a cell phone into jail for him.

Prosecutors said Miller allegedly used the phone to call friends and instruct them to harm or intimidate witnesses. The defense has said there is no evidence Miller even used the phone.

Man shouting obscenities at Blair, Royals, arrested

BLAIR

BRAEMAR, Scotland (AP) — Police arrested a man who shouted obscenities as he approached an area where Prime Minister Tony Blair and his wife, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip were watching Scottish Highland games event.

Police Superintendent Peter Clark said the 35-year-old man was arrested while moving at a jogging or fast-walking pace as he approached the Braemar Pavilion at the track and field games Saturday, and was stopped by police officers. Clark could not say to whom the obscenities were directed.

The man was not immediately charged and was expected to appear in court Monday.

The royals, who spend their summer vacation at Balmoral Castle, 50 miles away, received loud applause when they arrived at the Braemar Gathering — although a section of the crowd booed Blair.

"I was in the arena at the time and I heard the booing. It was such bad manners," said John Meston, secretary of the Braemar Gathering.
