Batter Up

JP Beato III • THE BATTALION

A&M sophomore first baseman Kristin Gunter hits a home run Saturday in the Aggie softball's 8-0 win over Penn State University. Gunter's home run gave A&M a 3-0 lead in the third inning. The Aggies' lost their second game on Saturday, 4-1, to No. 17 Oregon. The Ducks won the St. Joseph Aggie Invitational II with a 5-0 record. The Aggies finished the tournament 3-1. The final game between A&M and Southern Mississippi was cancelled Sunday due to standing water in the outfield.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

A&M swimming takes second in Austin meet

The No. 14 Texas A&M men's and women's swimming and diving teams came up short this weekend at the Big 12 Championships, finishing second to the University of Texas. It is the fourth consecutive year that the men have finished second to Texas, while the women have seen the runner-up position for five consecutive years. The meet started out promising for both Aggie squads Wednesday, with the men leading Texas and the women tied with Texas. Texas drowned any hopes that the Aggies had on Thursday though, taking over the lead and gaining an even more comfortable lead on Friday. A&M women's head coach Steve Bultman, A&M diving coach Kevin Wright, sophomore diver Alida DiPlacido and freshman Rebecca Sturdy received post-meet awards. The most Big 12 Championships awards the A&M women have ever earned. Both squads will have more chance to achieve qualifying times for the 2004 NCAA Championships at the American Short Course Championships in Austin this weekend.

No. 16 Baylor defeats Aggies in Waco, 80-55

After a week of rest, the Texas A&M women's basketball team traveled to Waco and fell to No. 16 Baylor, 80-55. "When you're rested like we were, everything pointed to us being ready to play," said A&M head coach Gary Blair. "A lot of it tonight was us not competing. A lot of it was Baylor being efficient on offense in the transition game." The Bears pulled out to a 38-16 lead at halftime on the strength of their 54 percent shooting. The Aggies shot just 22 percent from the field in the half. A&M's 16 first-half points were the fewest the Aggies have scored in the first half this season. The second half went much like the first as Baylor built a lead that went as high as 35 points. A&M senior guard Toccara Williams finished with just five points. Williams averages 15 points per game. "We live and die with Toccara Williams," Blair said. "Even now and then even a great player is going to have a bad game." A&M junior guard Charlene Castille led the Aggies with 15 points. Baylor was led by senior forward Dionne Brown's 16 points. Junior forward Steffan Blackmon and sophomore forward Sophia Young both contributed 13 points. The Aggies will next play Missouri at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Reed Arena.

Basketball

The Aggies never could find an answer as they went cold from the floor in the second half, shooting a dismal 29.2 percent, allowing Colorado to outscore the Aggies 40-28 in the half.

WATKINS

"Maybe it wasn't meant for us (to win) this season," Turner said. With the loss putting the Aggies another step closer to matching Baylor's 1998-99 squad as the only two teams in Big 12 history to go winless in conference games, it's clear that Watkins' fate seems destined to follow in the footsteps of Davis. But by playing a close game against Colorado, the Aggie players are still trying to end their season on a winning note. "The way they played; it was a great team," Harrison said. "They're playing for (Watkins) right now, and you've got to respect that."

Softball

Oregon getting 10 hits and four runs. Wilhelmson had four strikeouts and one error in her complete game. Evans said Wilhelmson's pitching should have won the game.

EVANS

"Wilhelmson made some great pitches in tough situations," Evans said. "They scattered 10 hits but she pitched well enough to win the game, and that is all we can ask of her." The Aggies' only score of the game was by junior left fielder Jana James who singled and was hit in by a double to center from sophomore designated player Kristin Gunter. The other Duck run was scored by freshman right fielder Ann Marie Topps off a hit by freshman first baseman Kristi Leiter. The Aggies went 3-1 in the tournament last weekend beating Southern Mississippi and Penn State on Friday and Penn State in the early game on Saturday. Sunday's game against University of Southern Mississippi was cancelled due to standing water in the outfield from storms early Sunday.
