Big 12

Continued from page 5

tchers, senior Justin Moore, junior Zach Jackson and sophore Robert Ray, and their powerful batting order to win games. In the Big 12, the Aggies will need help from their bullpen, d only redshirt freshman Jason Meyer has proved to be relile in relief.

Above all else, though, A&M needs a closer to replace not Beerer who departed for the minor leagues after a perb 2003 season.

These questions aren't anything new. They were present when e Aggies began the season in February. The answers are still known, mainly because the Aggies were able to skate through n-conference play without being tested. Only eight of A&M's 20 m-conference wins had a final score within three runs.

If the Aggies can't find the answers soon, A&M will strugto pass its Big 12 test in the final stretch, much like the stuents just coming back from spring break.

Zorn captures sixth national title

Texas A&M senior compound archer Mary Zorn set a new American record with a score of 1,177 as she earned her sixth individual national championship by virtue of her performance at the 35th National Indoor Championships.

Junior Amber Dawson placed second, 20 points behind Zorn, while A&M sophomore Amanda Raffaeli placed third with a score of 1,133. A&M freshmen Josahan Jaime-Santacruz and Brenda Temperley
