and say 'wow.'"

There would be one more surprise in store for the 37,409 Aggie fans in attendance. After leading the Maroon team on a quick drive to the 40-yard line, Branyon would have one more shot at the end zone with 13 seconds left on the clock. Branyon threw a desperation pass into the strong winds that somehow ended up in junior receiver L'Tydrick Riley's hands, clinching the game for the Maroon.

FRANCHIONE

"We practice the two-minute drill every day, and it paid off today," Branyon said. "That last throw was especially bad, but thank goodness (Riley) came back and got it."

was down 5-3 and came back."

While this was going on at Court No. 1, Spencer, Walker, Vieira and Mechem all won close matches, clinching the decisive 7-0 margin of victory.

"I thought K-State played a great match," Kleinecke said. "You try to fight from looking ahead, and as a player that's hard to do."

Now the Aggies can finally prepare for the match they have been awaiting for months: the match against No. 12 Texas for the Big 12 regular season championship.

"It's going to be awesome," Mechem said. "We're in position to win the Big 12, and it's against Texas. It's also for a top national ranking."

A&M faces Texas Tuesday at 6 p.m. at the George P. Mitchell Tennis Center.

A&M point guard selected in WNBA Draft

Texas A&M senior point guard Toccara Williams was selected in the third round of the WNBA Draft Saturday in the San Antonio Silver Stars. Williams, the 34th pick overall, was the second player picked by San Antonio.

Williams led the NCAA steals for the past two seasons, is the all-time Big 12 leader in career steals, and she became just the first player in NCAA history to record 1,000 points, 500 rebounds, 700 assists and 400 steals.

Williams is the second player to be selected by the WNBA following Jayetta Saunders, who was drafted in 2001.
