NEWS IN BRIEF

Fastow aid to testify plead guilty to crimes, Michael in barge case

HOUSTON (AP) - More than former Enron Corp. executive to Kopper is about to make his debut on a witness stand.

Kopper, 39, was at the epicenter two years after becoming the first of financial schemes allegedly coordinated by his boss, former Enron finance chief Andrew Fastow. The schemes funneled millions of dollars into their pockets and eventually fueled the energy company's swift crash into bankruptcy in December 2001.
